Meg Married In Blaze Of Royal Pomp

Million Britons Cheer Princess, Bridegroom

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret, sister of the queen, and Antony-Armstrong Jones, were married in royal pomp before the high altar of kings today and sailed into the sunset on their honeymoon.

A million people cheered them on their way.

In the awed stillness of Westminster Abbey, Margaret whispered her troth and pledged to "love, cherish and to obey" the man she chose above crowned heads. She fumbled her vows once when she came to the words "for better or worse," but recovered herself. Antony was nervous like any bridegroom. When it was over they smiled, but did not kiss.

Queen Mother Elizabeth shed a tear as her second daughter left her. Queen Elizabeth sat regal and solemn, as though holding back the tears a sovereign must not shed in public. She allowed herself only a deep sigh.

A wedding breakfast at Buckingham Palace, photographs to capture in later years this greatest of days, and Margaret and Antony rode off again through street dense with cheering Britons to the royal yacht Britannia and a $2,800-a-day honeymoon in the Caribbean that could take them into American waters.

English reserve and restraint was forgotten for the wedding of this favorite princess whose approaching 30th birthday next August had left many wondering whether her blighted romance with Peter Townsend would leave her a spinster. Hundreds of thousands cheered the royal glass carriage and the prancing bays that pulled her sedately from Clarence House to the abbey and then carried her back to Buckingham with her beaming bridegroom.

The carriage passed under a nuptial arch of 60,000 roses, flanked by the plumed, gorgeously bedecked cavairymen of the Household Guards. On Margaret's left sat the Duke of Edinburg, who was to give her away. He looked proud.

At the abbey, all was in readiness. The 2,068 guests had assembled 45 minutes before the ceremony. Bridesmaids had gone on ahead. "Beefeater" guards in Elizabethan costume lined the main aisle from the west door. Tony, in morning trousers and cutaway, was waiting.

Margaret's gown was a vision of white silk organza, 12 panels floating back into a long train. Her sleeves were wrist-length, her bodice dipped in a modest V. A bouquet of orchids lay on her right arm, in them a sprig of myrtle, put there by her mother from the myrtle bush planted after her own wedding

ROOF PUNCTURED—Two Texas National Guardsmen survey damage to a National Guard aircraft hangar roof in Grand Praire, Tex., today. The roof was punctured by flying debris as last night's tornadoes smashed through the Dallas-Fort Worth area. (AP Wirephoto)

Tornadoes Blast Three States; 27 Known Dead

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — A tornado today smashed the small town of Menifee, near Morrilton, killing one woman and injuring at least 20 other persons.

In Oklahoma, rescue workers were digging through muddy, rain-soaked debris of more than half a dozen eastern Oklahoma towns lashed last night by tornadoes which killed at least 26 persons and injured another 200 or more.

Tornadoes also struck some Texas areas, inflicting property damage.

A 12th victim of the twister which hit the college town of Wilburton, Okla., last night died this morning. An estimated 75 were injured in Wilburton and cleanup crews feared they would find more victims in the rubble.

At Menifee, Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said today's twister destroyed a dozen houses, two churches and the post office.

Hawkins directed rescue efforts of police and civil defense workers. He said the tornado left just about everything in splinters. Menifee is a town of 150.

The reported toll in the other Oklahoma tornadoes was five dead and 16 injured in the Moffet-Roland area next to the Arkansas border near Fort Smith, three killed and six hurt near Keota, two killed and possibly seven hurt at Sapulpa, two deaths in rural areas near Sallisaw and Checotah, two dead and 12 injured near Bristow, and 13 hurt in the Hoffman community near Henryetta.

Of the 12 persons killed in Wilburton, five died and scores were injured in the Calvary

Ike Hints He May Cancel Plans For Visit To Russia

Soviets Fired Rocket On Orders Of Nikita

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet leaders said today an American plane was shot down Sunday by a "remarkable rocket" on personal orders of Premier Nikita Khrushchev. They warned the United States again of "provocations" and "military gambles."

Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, first deputy minister of defense and commander-in-chief of ground forces, told a wildly cheering Supreme Soviet (parliament) that the U. S. plane had been destroyed by the first rocket fired.

(It was believed the first plane ever shot down in anger by a ground-to-air missile. Chinese Nationalists have used air-to-air Sidewinder missiles against the Chinese Communist air force in jet battles over the Formosa Strait.)

WARNING TO U. S.

Grechko disclosed that rocket troops have "become the main branch of the armed forces and have been formed into a separate service with its own command." He warned the United States, "remember that we have enough rockets."

Grechko was followed by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who dismissed as "nonsense" U. S. State Department accounts of the plane incident and repeated Khrushchev's warning of yesterday that the United States was "playing with fire."

HEATED ATTACKS

The Supreme Soviet session, angered by Khrushchev's report yesterday of an American "aggression," heard some of the most heated anti-American attacks in many months. Speaker after speaker denounced the Americans as "gangster" who acted like Hitlerites and "two-faced bandits."

Gromyko, in a pre-summit speech, also restated the Soviet's tough position on West Berlin and warned the West that force will be met by force if the Western allies try forcibly to preserve the status of West Berlin.

U.S. Asks Full Facts On Downing of Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower hinted today he might cancel his plans to visit Russia next month if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev presses his anti-American campaign too far.

Speaking casually to labor leader George Meany, Eisenhower suddenly clouded his Moscow trip with a big "if." He did so by saying that he would take a new kind of a boat as a gift to the Soviet Premier "if" he makes the trip.

The President and Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, were standing before a boat at a union-industries exhibit at the time.

The interjection of the "if" was obviously far from accidental at a time when officials from the President down have been trying to figure out what Khrushchev is up to in this

BURGLARY CONFESSED

Testimony Of 2 Boys Holds Mom For Trial

Testimony by two Novato boys, age 11 and 14, today caused their mother to be bound over to Marin Superior Court for prosecution.

Ida Mae Carter, 36, of Bobo's Trailer Court was held to answer on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of her two sons.

The boys testified at a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court this morning, admitting they broke into Lynwood School last weekend. They got about $100 after the older boy peeled the back off a filing cabinet. One gave $20 to their mother.

The older boy, George Bailey, said that on Monday, after he had been questioned by police, he found his mother intoxicated on the street and gave her $20, telling her for the first time of the burglary but not about the police.

But "she said she wanted no part of it, wanted me to give it (the money) back, throw it away, get rid of it," the boy testified.

Both boys had bought guns Sunday, one a .22 caliber rifle and the other a pellet gun, they said. But they testified they told their mother they had borrowed the guns.

The night of the school burglary, the boys were away from home from 7 p.m. to nearly 3 a.m. Judge Leonard A. Thomas stressed this absence from home as justification for holding the mother.

The school burglary is only one of many crimes for which the 14-year-old is wanted for questioning.

Detectives from the Centralia, Wash., police department were in San Rafael today to

Clerk Terms New Law 'Impossibility'

"The law can't compel you to do something that's impossible," County Clerk George S. Jones told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

But just that situation has arisen, he said, with reference to his election work. Jones was reading a budget commentary on primary and general elections and came to a section stating that laws enacted by the Legislature last year "add to the complexity of the work program" in various ways including: "The political parties must be furnished lists of the election board members for each precinct and advised currently of all changes."

"We absolutely won't be able to do this," declared Jones. "The Legislature writes these provisions without any experience and all the clerks are in trouble."

He said it's increasingly difficult to get people to serve on election boards, "20 per cent will refuse," and lists have to be thrown together with no real idea as to who will function finally—so that the law demands an impossible performance.

In "the old days," Jones said, election jobs were "political plums" so that "when you put somebody on an election board he was your friend. Now it's changed. You go down on your knees but the pay doesn't attract, and people would rather go down to the bowling alley."

Jones's 1960-61 election budget was approved at a total of $9,600, up from a current $7,561.

The supervisors cleaned up a lot of loose ends yesterday afternoon and then recessed, with a final preliminary budget meeting set for 9 a.m. Monday when they will consider parks and recreation appropriations.

As result of heavy pruning in building operations, the board trimmed that total from $14,995 to $3,525. Dropped were three items totaling $3,790 for health department repairs and painting. Chairman Walter R. Castro said he had investigated and deemed the work not necessary.

The unappropriated reserve was held at $200,000 though some felt it a mite conservative. As of March 21 the 1959-60 outlay from this was $210,295 which was possible because $54,853 appropriated for other purposes was not used.

INSURANCE UP

County insurance costs will go up $300, to $67,960, through addition of malpractice coverage for the health officer and his assistant.

Request of the county medical director for the inclusion of 14 part-time physicians into the county retirement and social security programs, at a cost of $5,000, was turned down as recommended by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen.

"I was amazed to find how much is going to county employees for fringe benefits," commented Jensen.

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

The supervisors somewhat glumly approved the employee benefit budget at a total of $258,200, compared with a current $229,750.

As the board glanced over the capital improvement program again, Jones told them the judges aren't eager to move out of present quarters into the new civic center.

Maybe the civic center courts building should be given a low priority, he suggested.

Aviation Gas Monies Stir Board Debate

One little word caused a lot of fretting during yesterday's preliminary budget session of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The word was "Novato," highly significant to Supervisor William Gnoss who comes from there and who fought unsuccessfully to tie down an aviation gas tax monopoly for his area.

It appeared in a budget section on the county airport project, in a line reading "Site Acquisition and Construction —Novato" and calling for expenditure of $25,441 in accumulated aviation gasoline tax refunds.

Supervisor Vera Schultz of Mill Valley had urged that the Richardson Bay site for a proposed county airport not be totally forgotten in this connection.

"It's not an airport now," retorted Gnoss.

"It's being run as a seaplane base," countered Mrs. Schultz. "I don't think we should specifically designate any one place."

"Gas tax money should go to the county airport," Gnoss insisted.

Mrs. Schultz warmly declared that at Richardson Bay there is "a functioning seaplane base providing aviation gas tax money." Chairman Walter R. Castro pointed out that a heliport base is being considered and perhaps should receive gas tax paid in due course.

"I move to strike out the limitation" (to Novato alone) said Mrs. Schultz. Only Gnoss voted "no" on a 3-1 record with Supervisor William D. Fusselman absent.

The board then approved the 1960-61 airport budget.

Redevelopment Bill Passed; Veto Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a 251 million-dollar area redevelopment bill today and sent it to President Eisenhower, who has indicated he will veto it.

Senate approval of the House-passed bill was by a roll call of 45 to 32.

The measure, politically significant in economically distressed areas, would provide a loan and grant program to rehabilitate communities unable to shake high unemployment even during relatively prosperous times.

The program, which the House approved Wednesday night after a parliamentary free-for-all, is nearly five times as large as the 53 million dollars recommended by the President. However, it falls short of a $389,500,000 bill the Senate approved last year.

The Senate approved the House bill after Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) and other Democrats charged the Eisenhower administration helps foreigners but neglects the needy at home.

Eisenhower on Tuesday warned against election-year enactment of big spending proposals. He particularly mentioned the distressed areas bill, which has strong support in depressed regions of West Virginia, Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

Opponents attacked the bill as too costly, difficult to administer and a wrong answer for the economic problems of labor surplus areas.

The President vetoed a similar bill in 1958.

City Annexation Proposal Argued

OAKLAND (AP)—A recommendation that cities be allowed to annex certain subdivisions without approval of persons living in them was argued yesterday before the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government.

Modesto's city planning director, George H. Smeath, declared that cities should be able to make such annexations.

Thomas B. Inglis, mayor of Monte Sereno, Santa Clara County, expressed his opinion that such action would be "un-American."

TO EYE ZONING

Planning Liaison Unit Holds Sausalito Meet

A committee, which is to be a liaison between the Sausalito Planning Commission and city council, held its initial meeting last night at the city hall to look into deficiencies in the city's present zoning ordinance.

Members who met were Councilmen Marjorie Brady and Michael Harris, Planning Commissioners Gilbert P. Murphy and Ruth Sisson, and Earl Dunphy, a citizen representative. One more citizen representative will join the committee at ensuing meetings.

Mrs. Brady said the committee spoke on general topics under the ordinance in an effort to "boil things down to a degree of priority to see which things should be done first." The committee plans to have a list of topics, by priority, to present to the city council May 17, she said.

No date was set last night for the committee's next meeting.

Toastmaster Meeting Set In San Rafael

More than 250 members of Toastmasters Clubs in Northern California are expected to attend the organization's annual district convention tomorrow at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. for the representatives of 40 clubs from the Golden Gate to the Oregon border.

Highlight of the day-long convention will be a district speech contest at 8:45 p.m. following dinner. Presiding will be Gordon Dickie, district governor.

An educational and training session will be held during the day for men. Women delegates will stage a folk dance exhibition and and will tour Sausalito.

New officers will be elected during the day, including a district governor and three lieutenant governors.

Co-chairman of the arrangements committee are Roy Calder of Terra Linda and Floyd Brown of Novato.

Robber Of Bank Starts Long Term

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Frederick Miller, 54, was taken to Alcatraz Island prison yesterday to serve 34 years for two robberies of the Cotati branch of the Exchange Bank of Santa Rosa.

Miller pleaded guilty and drew two consecutive 17-year terms.

He got $22,794 in the two robberies. Miller, a machinist, was arrested Feb. 1 at Crestwood, Mo. Agents said the man had planned to get married the following day.

McGraw-Hill's Building Plan Wins Approval

The Corte Madera Board of Design last night approved plans for McGraw-Hill Book Co.'s western headquarters and distribution center in Fifer Industrial Park.

Building Inspector William McBride said the plans call for a very generous amount of planting—unique for commercial enterprises. About 50 per cent of the total area of 191,000 square feet is landscaped.

The warehouse and office building is to be of modern concrete, fireproof construction. John Bolles is the architect.

The board also approved plans of Holy Innocents' Episcopal Church to add a second floor to its building for school rooms and social activities.

An application from Tone House of Beauty, 21 First street, to add a small rear addition was approved, as was a request from a new gas station at El Camino and Paradise drive for an additional driveway on El Camino. Marin Estates homeowners protested this but the station agreed to place more planting on El Camino to blend in with homeowners' landscaping.

All go to the planning commission for its consideration Monday night.

Fiery Crash Kills 7

FRESNO (AP)—Seven persons were killed early today in a fiery two-car crash at an intersection near Mendota, 30 miles west of Fresno. All seven were in the same car.

The other driver, Keith Thomas, 18, was taken to Fresno Community Hospital in critical condition.

Driver Juventino Tervino Gonzales and two companions were killed when thrown from the car. The other four bodies were found in the rear seat, burned beyond recognition.

Teacher Leaps To Death Off Gate Bridge

A 21-year-old San Bruno teacher leaped to his death from the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday at a spot near where another man had jumped only 19 hours before.

The body of Albert Lloyd Keehn of Oakland, a San Francisco State College senior doing student teaching at Capuchino High School in San Bruno, was recovered from Golden Gate waters by the Coast Guard.

Keehn was listed as the 195th known suicide from the bridge. Not yet counted was another apparent suicide Wednesday night, when a Mill Valley priest saw a man leap from the bridge. A coat with identification cards of Carl Fisher of Belleview, Pa., was found where the man reportedly jumped, but the body has not been recovered.

Keehn's father, A. K. Keehn of Oakland, said he knew of no motive for suicide by his son, who had been a child prodigy as a musician.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

HARVEY S. FIRESTONE III
Plunges to his death

Crippled Scion Of Firestone Family Suicides

HAVANA (AP)—Harvey S. Firestone III, crippled scion of the wealthy rubber family, crawled to the balcony of his 20th floor hotel suite last night and plunged to his death.

Cuban authorities ruled him a suicide. He left no note.

The 30-year-old Firestone, a resident of St. Petersburg, Fla., suffered from cerebral palsy and was confined to a wheelchair. He checked into the Havana Hilton at 1:40 p.m. yesterday with his attendent and a cousin, David M. Firestone, 29, of Sarasota, Fla. They planned to stay three days.

CALL POLICE

About 7 p.m. Harvey disappeared and his two companions called police.

Clad only in white shorts and a pajama top, his body was found on a third-floor parapet.

Firestone, who had powerful arms and shoulders, apparently crawled to the balcony of the room, pulled himself up on top of a chair and plunged over the three and one-half foot-high aluminum grill barrier around the balcony. Death was instantaneous.

EARLIER DEATH TRY

Police said David Firestone told them his cousin two months ago in Florida had tried to jump from a speeding car.

The dead man was the grandson of the founder of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. and the only son of Harvey S. Firestone Jr., now head of the firm.

Firestone is survived by his wife, the former Beverly Lou McFarlan of Brecksville, Ohio, whom he married in 1956, and a 19-month-old daughter, Diane Elizabeth.

Hiss Case Judge Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel H. Kaufman, 66, the U.S. District Court judge who presided at the first perjury trial of Alger Hiss, died yesterday.

Kaufman retired from the bench in 1955 after suffering a stroke. Early in his career he gained fame as a special government prosecutor and investigator of corruption in federal agencies.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

School Bus Burns

CHARLEROI, Pa. (AP) — A school bus driver took a swipe at a wasp yesterday and the vehicle crashed into a utility pole. Flames consumed the bus within minutes, but all 36 children aboard filed out safely. A few suffered minor bruises.

Goldfine Trial Delayed

BOSTON (AP)—The tax evasion trial of industrialist Bernard Goldfine, scheduled for May 24, has been postponed until Sept. 6.

U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney changed the date yesterday. His action came soon after withdrawal from the case of three Goldfine attorneys—E. Bennett Williams of Washington and Edward D. Hassan and Burton L. Williams of Boston.

Canadian Ship Sinks

MONTREAL (AP) — Shipping was halted in Montreal harbor today while searchers looked for the hulk of the coastal freighter Federal Express, sunk in a three-ship collision.

The 1,000-ton Canadian freighter was rammed at her berth by the 2,085-ton Swedish freighter Polaris last night. Torn from her moorings, she drifted into a second ship—the 5,758-ton Norwegian freighter Thorshope—before going down. No one was hurt.

Kidnaped Editor Safe

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Andonis Pharmakides, 46, kidnaped editor of the newspaper Ethniki, was found bound and gagged in a cave five miles from here today.

He appeared exhausted but otherwise unharmed after his 12-day disappearance. An anonymous phone call led police to the cave.

Pharmakides has been campaigning editorially against Archbishop Makarios, president-elect of Cyprus.

Rocket Try Stymied

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —The United States is expected to try again next week to get a trouble-ridden space rocket into the skies with its "radio mirror" balloon satellite, "Echo I."

The shot, set for today, was grounded for the weekend by a balky second stage in the new rocket.

Scientists first had hoped to get the 100-foot sphere into the skies yesterday. Then came one 24-hour delay and finally yesterday's indefinite postponement.

Church Trend Decried

DENVER (UPI) — The Methodist General Conference called shameful the centralization of ministry in middle and upper-middle class neighborhoods and voted yesterday to support churches in "inner cities" and underprivileged areas.

"The Methodist Church is rapidly becoming a middle and upper-middle class church and tending to move away from the underprivileged groups in blighted areas," said the missions committee report which prompted the action.

Defense Money Voted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House yesterday approved a defense money bill designed to increase spending on missiles, Polaris-firing submarines, planes and satellites while slashing "enormous waste" in procurement.

The $39,337,867,000 measure, about half the total federal budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, would provide $1,529,000,000 more than President Eisenhower requested for air defense, missile offense and a possible future airborne alert.

These increases would be partly offset by orders to the military to halt "enormous waste." The bill provides $121,967,000 more than Eisenhower asked.

Rioting In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Hundreds of Indonesian students today stormed the Dutch diplomatic headquarters and the home of the Dutch envoy here, breaking furniture and hauling down Dutch flags.

About 800 students joined in the demonstrations protesting reinforcement of Dutch military forces in western New Guinea, which Indonesia claims.

Educators To Meet

BURLINGAME (UPI)—The Bay section of the California Elementary School Administrators Assn. will hold its spring conference here tomorrow, with some 600 delegates from 13 Bay Area counties participating.

Carlos M. Montandon, section vice president and program chairman, said feature speakers will be Jack Rees, superintendent of Hayward schools, and Dr. Thomas P. Lantos, economic consultant now on the San Francisco State faculty.

TV Commercials Hit

CLEVELAND (UPI)—E. K. Hartenbower, chairman of the television industry's code review board, conceded today that some TV commercials are "downright disgusting."

But, he said, the board has noted "some substantial improvement in many commercials."

Hartenbower also said the television industry should take a "long, hard look" at the amount of violence in certain programs.

Hartenbower, general manager of KCMO-TV, Kansas City, Mo., made the statements in a speech before the annual convention of the American Women in Radio and Television.

Turks Seize Papers

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Copies of all Istanbul morning newspapers were seized today by the Istanbul martial law command.

There was speculation the action was taken because the papers had printed an interior ministry communique on yesterday's anti-government student demonstrations in Ankara in which Premier Adnan Menderes was heckled and jostled.

Ike Signs Rights Bill, Calls It Step Ahead

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower signed the hardfought 1960 civil rights bill today, hailing it as "an historic step forward" in assuring equality for all citizens regardless of color or race.

The six-point law provides new federal help to Negroes who are denied voting privileges, and enables the government to prosecute "hate" bombers and mobs obstructing court-ordered integration of public schools.

It is the second civil rights law enacted during Eisenhower's term in office and only the second enacted since the Reconstruction days following the Civil War.

Eisenhower signed the bill at a simple White House ceremony attended only by Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Deputy Atty. Gen. Lawrence E. Walsh.

The measure, enacted after a long and often bitter congressional fight, contains most of the President's civil rights recommendations, but in a somewhat weaker form.

The President said he regretted that Congress saw fit to modify his proposals, but added that the bill deals meaningfully "with that key constitutional right of every American, to vote without discrimination on account of race or color."

Youth Trapped In Well Dies

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Finally getting sand cleared away after more than 27 hours, rescue workers late last night recovered the body of Luther Warren Payne, 18-year-old high school athlete buried by a well cave-in.

Payne, helping his family dig the well Wednesday in the back yard of their home at Burlington, near here, was laying brick when the unsupported wall gave way near the bottom and six to eight feet of sand poured in on him.

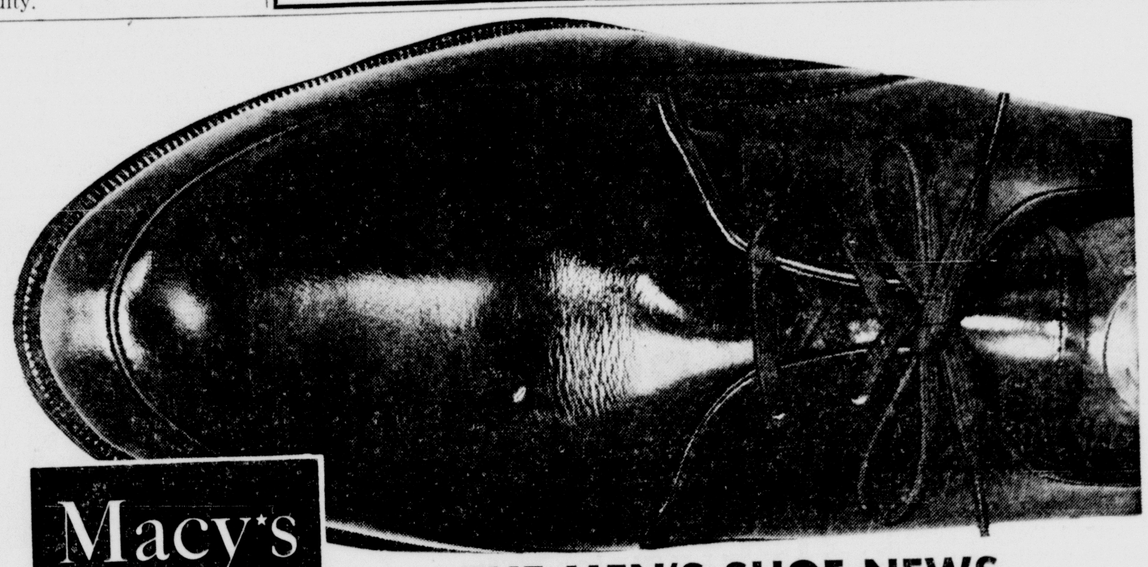

More sand sometimes slid into the well faster than it could be dug out until power equipment was brought in.

37 years ago to the man who became King George VI. Margaret's hair was swept up bouffante to support a diamond tiara. A full veil hung over her brunette locks.

Her left arm rested on the arm of the duke. Once he leaned over to her and her serious face relaxed in a faint smile at something he murmured. Behind them came Princess Anne and seven other flower girls, in floor-length white relieved by blue ribbon.

In the nave, bolstered by best man Dr. Roger Gilliatt, the 30-year-old Tony stood.

Finally, the bride reached the high altar. Before her had gone the Archbishop of Canterbury in green and gold cope, the Dean of Westminster, the percentor, canons, the abbey scholars, all the men with medieval titles, and the great gold cross of Westminster sparkling with diamonds.

Queen Elizabeth, in blue floor-length gown, Prince Charles, in Highland tartan, and the Queen Mother in white, sat on the right with Danish Queen Ingrid. Opposite were lesser royalty and Tony's divorced parents, the Countess of Rosse and Ronald Armstrong-Jones, who sat with his third wife, the 31-year-old daughter of a fruit vendor.

Sir Winston Churchill leaned forward to hear, an honored guest.

The ceremony began with the familiar words, "Dearly beloved, we are gathered in the sight of God . . ."

The Dean of Westminster read a homily on the purpose of marriage. Then the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, stepped before the couple and began the ceremony.

All went smoothly until Margaret began repeating her vows before the throng of invited guests and and millions listening on radio and watching on television.

When she came to the ancient ritual of pledging herself to Tony, she choked up for a moment.

"For better for worse," intoned the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Margaret hesitated, murmured something, and as if reminding her:

"For better for worse," the archbishop said again.

She then repeated the words quietly, her voice in a lower key than usual. It was part of the pledge by the bride in the Anglican wedding service:

"I Margaret Rose, take thee Antony Charles Robert, to my wedded husband, to have and to hold from this day forward, for better for worse, for richer for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love, cherish and to obey, till death do us part . . ."

The bridegroom spoke his wedding responses clearly and firmly as he knelt with Margaret before the archbishop, who pronounced them man and wife at exactly 11:45 a.m.

It was the first time in four centuries that the daughter of an English king had married a commoner.

There were three fanfares and three anthems during the 50-minute service.

As the newlyweds turned to march out arm in arm, the great organ burst into "God Save the Queen."

As they reached the great doors, all the churchbells in London began pealing the joyous tidings. The newlyweds entered the glass coach and rode in state through the cheering throngs to Buckingham Palace.

There the queen toasted them in champagne presented to the family on Margaret's birth in 1930 and saved for this occasion.

Cries of "We want Margaret" from a quarter million throats brought them to the palace balcony to wave.

Then they changed into street clothes, got into a car and drove off alone.

It should have been a 15-minute ride from the palace to the royal yacht Britannia moored on the Thames. But the crowd from the pier to the palace was so thick and so hemmed in the car that it took an hour.

The Britannia steamed out, a floating palace, taking a royal princess and the man who in her heart, at least, is her prince, on their honeymoon.

Twister Hits Hometown Of Novatoans

News of the Oklahoma tornadoes today hit with more than casual interest Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crouch of 319 Holly avenue, Novato.

Both Crouch, a carpenter, and his wfe were born and reared in Wilburton, Okla., the town hardest hit by the tornadoes. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crouch and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lively, still reside there. The Novato Crouches were unable today to learn their parents' fate in the disaster.

Every name appearing on a list of 12 known dead in Wilburton was familar to her, Mrs. Crouch said.

Mr. and Mrs. Crouch left Oklahoma in 1948 and moved to Marin six years ago.

Baptist church. Some 57 members had gathered there for a church supper honoring students at Eastern A&M College here.

Darkness, rain and lack of power and communications hampered search efforts during the night and early morning.

Eighteen blocks of the downtown and east side residential areas were smashed and battered. Most of the brick and masonry buildings stood, but minus glass.

Biggest town hit by the twisters was Sapulpa, an industrial city of 15,000 just southwest of Tulsa.

question him about a rape-slaying of a 9-year-old girl.

Sherry Marie Ergell, 9, of Centralia was kidnaped from her bed, raped, slashed from ear to ear, half buried near a culvert last Sept. 25. The boy, who is a fugitive from a mental hospital near Centralia, was believed in the area at the time of the kidnap-killing.

Washington police arrived at the sheriff's office today, armed with extradition papers.

Pat Gordon Wright, 31, of Penngrove, Sonoma County, won dismissal Wednesday of a charge in Sonoma County courts of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, based on his relations with the same 14-year-old boy.

The boy was arrested in Petaluma April 9 and accused of six burglaries there. He was taken to Sonoma County Juvenile Hall and released to his mother pending a probation hearing. It was while on this release that he broke into the Lynwood School.

Wright was arrested at the same time and accused of talking the boy into stealing his stepfather's car.

Marinwood Board To Meet Tuesday

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday, at the Mary Silveira School to appoint three fire commissioners and five park and recreation commissioners.

In making the announcement, Howard Council, director, said the directors are asking all persons interested in the assignments to call chairman Charles Johnson.

He said further consideration also would be given to the question of entering into a joint powers agreement with the county board of supervisors, to provide the district with operating funds.

critical presummit conference period.

As part of the search for an explanation, the United States formally and politely asked the Soviet Foreign Office today for "the full facts" behind Khrushchev's boast that Soviet forces shot down an American aircraft early Sunday when it allegedly violated the Soviet frontier. The note, delivered in Moscow, particularly asked about the fate of the pilot.

A State Department spokesman denied that in this instance or any other the Soviet border had been deliberately violated by an American aircraft. He reiterated the U.S. government's position that the pilot of a weather research plane in the Soviet-Turkish border area Sunday morning was having trouble with his oxygen equipment and may have blacked out.

In that event, said press officer Lincoln White, he might have accidentally flown into Russia.

Forgery Ring Suspect In U.S. Custody

One suspect in a $5,000 interstate forgery ring, caught in Mill Valley, has been turned over to federal authorities, but others involved, including girls, may have fled the area, Marin sheriff's deputies reported today.

Phillip Robert Sheridan, 35, arrested in Mill Valley Wednesday, is believed to be a member of a forgery ring that passed $5,000 worth of stolen money orders in the Reno area last March. Inspector Guido Battaglia of the sheriff's office said girls were used to pass the bank money orders, stolen from Oregon drug stores earlier this year.

Sheridan is in San Francisco Jail awaiting arraignment in federal court next Tuesday. He is being held in lieu of $5,000 bail.

Prosecutor Doubts Caryl Had Child

The cremated remains of executed convict Caryl Chessman lie in a regular crematorium cardboard container in San Rafael.

But the controversy he helped create when he was alive has not died down.

Today a fresh controversy swirled over whether he died shielding a daughter he had never publicly acknowledged. Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy of Los Angeles, the prosecutor who convicted Chessman in 1948, scoffed at a statement of Chessman's attorney that the convict died to protect an unpublicized daughter.

The daughter, according to attorney George T. Davis, would be 17. Davis said Chessman never revealed the real "red light bandit" because he feared gangster reprisal against the girl.

Leavy said, "Chessman was in the penitentiary in 1943 when a girl now 17 would have been fathered." Davis said Chessman gave him earnings from his books to forward to the girl, whom the lawyer refused to identify.

Records show that Chessman escaped from the California Institute for Men at Chino on July 16, 1943, and was not arrested again until the following January.

At Victorville, Chessman's former wife, said that to her knowledge the executed man never fathered a child. "We never had a child," the woman told a Victorville editor, on agreement he withhold her name. "I have children by my present husband, but they all are boys. I don't have a daughter."

Yesterday, in San Rafael, Rosalie Asher, one of Chessman's attorneys, and his administratrix, conferred at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, which handled the creation of Chessman, and issued this statement.

"For the time being the cremated remains of Caryl Chessman will stay just where they are. Whatever decision is ultimately made will be one dictated by consideration of dignity and lack of sensationalism. As you know, I have tried to take care of this matter as unobstrusively as possible and the public statements about this disgraceful situation have been originated by officials of Forest Lawn."

Forest Lawn Cemetery at Glendale, where Chessman's mother is buried, refused to take Chessman's ashes because he was an agnostic.

Mill Valley Public Given Compliment

The voluntary services of individuals and organizations in Mill Valley were complimented in a letter from City Manager A. E. Almcrants, presented to the city council.

Almcrants said, "There seems to be a great deal of interest in the development of certain aspects of our parks development program and I believe this interest deserves recognition." In his letter, Almcrants listed 12 projects to which people had donated services or material.

Insects on this globe have been in their present form at least 100 times as long as man says Dr. John H. Lilly, of the University of Massachusetts department of entomology and plant pathology.

SOILS ENGINEER—Robert T. Lawson of 7 Tartan road, Mill Valley, has become a member of the soils engineering firm of Harding Associates at 56 Harbor street, San Rafael. Lawson was formerly a resident partner in Dames and Moore, San Francisco soils engineers.

Official Urges Abolition Of Fair Passes

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Noting that 43 of every 100 fairgoers got in free last year, state Finance Director John E. Carr has recommended that the Legislature abolish all free passes to state-supported fairs.

Carr said in a report yesterday that freeloaders are costing the taxpayers one million dollars a year and possibly more.

That amount — and more than two million dollars eventually if "proper" admissions charges were required—could be saved each year by cutting out free passes, he said.

The only exceptions he proposed were free admissions for children under 6 and one free day for those under 16—the present policy.

Humane Society Lists Winners Of Contests

Awards in the annual humane education poster, scrapbook, ceramic, modeling and photography contests, sponsored by the Marin County Humane Society, were announced today.

The contest entries have been on exhibit at E Street School in San Rafael. The exhibit was to close at 5 p.m. today.

Winners received ribbons, with additional prizes for the top winners. Entries were judged by schools, with a special division for adult camera clubs. Edward C. Day and Leonard Fitzgerald, art teachers at San Rafael and Sir Francis Drake High Schools, respectively, placed the awards in art categories. C. F. Rattenbury judged the photo contests, and Mrs. Clifford Bunds judged scrapbook entries.

Winners were as follows:

'SABRINA FAIR'

Ross Players Capture Mood Of Merriment

The Ross Valley Players have captured a mood of merriment with a sense of satire in "Sabrina Fair," which returns to the boards tonight at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The Samuel Taylor comedy, which will have an 8:30 curtain time tonight, tomorrow and May 13, 14 and 20, proves a happy vehicle for a cast of Marinites expertly directed by John King.

Tykie Casey in the title role of Sabrina Fairchild manages to keep the sense of love-the-world expectancy from her entrance near the end of Act I to the final curtain on Act IV—not an easy role, for the character of Sabrina is exciting and amusing but not quite believable.

Fred Brylka as Linus Larabee Jr., the ruthless son of a millionaire who tells himself (and whoever else will listen) that he wants power and no petticoats, looks and acts the part. And Richard Casey, as his more pliant (and skirt-struck) brother David, acts as though the role were written for him.

The scene-stealer of the piece, though, is Dora Blunden as Julia Ward McKinlock, the Larrabee brothers' maiden (dammit!) aunt.

Alfred Spalding is properly stiff as the senior Larrabee, and Iolanda Dinar confusedly proper as his wife. Ralph Alden is a properly apologetic Fairchild, the book-reading, market-playing chauffeur (a role which might be given a different interpretation with equally amusing result).

And if Mervyn Silberberg's French accent is rather phony, that does not spoil his playing of Paul d'Argenson, the French tycoon who chases the chauffeur's daughter across the Atlantic (with a Gallic eye for a few million francs on the side).

The lesser parts are played with no less assurance. If there are any weak spots, they certainly aren't noticeable.

Altogether, it is good comedy, good theater—a good evening's entertainment.

Wilde Comedy Opens Tonight In Sausalito

Oscar Wilde's comedy, "The Importance of Being Ernest," will open at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Sausalito Little Theater.

It is the fourth and final production of the theater's 1959-60 season.

Directed by David Sacks, the following players make up the cast:

Pat Bond plays Lady Bracknell, Charlene Miller is Gwendolen Fairfax, Eva Wald is Cecily Cardew, Dorothy Pilcher is Miss Prism, John McDill plays Algernon Moncrief, Dick Dawson is Jack Worthing, Raymond White is Rev. Chasuble, Don Eaton is the butler Lane, and John Soumier, the butler Merriman.

The production staff consists of Joan Castrillion, Larry Allen, Brad Burris, Curt Hoffman, Marilou Perrone and Helene Knowles.

Two proper young ladies, Cecily and Gwendolen, meet two men-about-town, Algernon and Jack. The stuffy Lady Bracknell thinks only of social position and favorable marriage for her niece. All are involved in a fantastic plot of mistaken identity revolving around an invented and fictitious character named Ernest.

The play will run Friday and Saturday evenings through June 4

Novato Bike-O-Rama Postponed For Week

A bike-o-rama, including safety checks and contests, will be held May 14 in Novato. The event had been scheduled for tomorrow.

Contests and awards, ice cream and a safety check by mechanics will be included at the program at the Marion School grounds from 9 a.m. to noon. The event is sponsored by the Novato Kiwanis Club with the aid of the California Highway Patrol.

PLAYWRIGHT'S FIRST SHOW OPENS TONIGHT

"One in Every Family," the first play of Barbara Simon of Corte Madera, will be premiered at the Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur today at 8:30 p. m. Twin Cities Troupers seen rehearsing the new comedy are from left, (standing) Linda Riordan and Mimi Ingraham (seated) Karleen Fraser and Ray Osborn. The show will also be presented tomorrow and May 13 and 14.

Phone Supervisor Given Promotion

Jack E. Oliver of 22 Sonora way, Corte Madera, has been named manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s Fresno district.

Oliver, previously a commercial staff supervisor for the company in San Francisco, began his new duties May 1. He replaced Fred B. Ledeboer, who was named rate engineer for the company's new northern counties area in Sacramento.

Oliver began his career with the company in 1941 as a lineman in Stockton. Except for a tour of duty in the Navy during World War II, he has worked for the telephone company ever since.

He and his wife, Bernyce, are parents of a daughter, Melinda, 11, and twin sons, Kim and Kevin, 8.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Buon Gusto Villa Represents 77 Years Of Fine Italian Cooking

There are folks whose acquaintance with the Buon Gusto Villa in Fairfax exceeds mine in span and frequency. It's one of the few real old-timers left among Marin eateries—the oldest, I am sure, as it has a record for continuous operation for about 77 years.

My first visit there was somewhere around 1928. At that time Papa Giannini (Eleanor McArdle's father) was alive. He had already been its proprietor for eight years, and it's my recollection that he was a busy little man and a fine host.

Its informality then was as enjoyable as it is now, particularly for me. I can't recall if the sport shirt was an integral part of men's attire but its equivalent—open collar and no tie or coat—was perfectly acceptable.

Proprieties at the home dinner table in the presence of my mother, aunt and grandmother required the donning of a coat—even without company and the temperature at 90 degrees.

But what's more important, the food is done in the same old Italian style as it was in 1928. It's mighty delicious.

NAMES OF THE new owners of the Blue Rock Inn have now been published, but if you missed the item last Monday they are:

David M. Stuart, former manager of Bob's Of Marin, Robert E. Hosmer and Robert Antonioli. All are Marin County men.

Actual transfer of operations probably won't occur until about June 15.

THE YACHT DOCK in Sausalito is being rushed toward completion. Hopes were for the work to be finished by next Tuesday, but they may not make it—except for the bar.

WHOOPS! Sorry—I gave you the wrong order. Last week I located The Breakers, alias the Bamboo Hut, at Bolinas. Not so—it's in Stinson Beach.

Welmigosh, they're only six or seven miles apart.

THOSE FOND of Chinese food are passing up a good bet if they don't look in the Music Box in San Rafael. Here Lee Fon and Kenneth Lee are dispensing the celestial cuisine of their forefathers, both in the traditional gourmet style and in dishes more commonly known by westerners.

Preparation of the former takes more time and advance notice is required if you're not going to be satisfied with anything less than bird nest soup and shark fins. Won ton, Chinese noodles, sweet and sour spareribs and the chow meins are available on call.

Being that we didn't herald our coming with firecrackers and dragons, our personal experience took in the latter. It was excellent and I am looking forward to investigating the delectibles of Confucius and Lao Tze at a later date.

Chinese food is always a recommended fare for gatherings and parties, and it should be noted that the Music Box will prepare dishes for home consumption in both gourmet and popular styles. Give advance notice on large orders.

WE RAN into Carl Williamson at the Music Box and he told us that his wife, Alice, who has waited tables at the Buckeye for many years, is still in the hospital following a serious operation.

Our best wishes go out to Alice and may it not be too long before her only troubles again will be remembering who ordered the sauerbraten and who wanted schnitzel a la Holstein.

NEW PARTNER replacing Pierre Flobert at La Petite Auberge is Roger Poli, formerly of the Plaza Hotel in San Francisco and Ondine. Look for changes in the dinner menu shortly, and something called "quiche Lorraine" with your aperatif.

Both Paul De Vaux and Roger are handsome Frenchmen. Too bad they spend most of their time in the kitchen where you never see them.

ONE OF MY favorite waitresses has long been Ann Baney, formerly of Bob's of Marin, the Fireside, Bridgeway and other Marin spots. I think she's one of the fastest I've ever seen with plate or tray.

I've just learned where she is now—the Captain's Room in Corte Madera.

The captain's got a crew.

THINGS GET A LITTLE ROUGH ON STAGE

Libby Lewis is down but not out, with the ministrations of Alma Dinsmore, as "My Three Angels"—otherwise Ken Rosenberg, Don Straiton and Dave Burmester—appear concerned but not too helpful in this scene from "My Three Angels," being presented tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock in Harlan Hall by the College of Marin Drama Workshop. Court Studies Former Prison Guard's Appeal

The state Supreme Court has taken under submission the appeal of a former San Quentin Prison guard from Fairfax of his conviction in the "icebox" kidnaping and robbery at an Oakland supermarket in 1957.

Jesse Eugene Trout, formerly of 121 Mono avenue, Fairfax, was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1958 for participating in the kidnaping and holdup of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine R. Groos. The couple was taken from their home to the market where Groos worked and locked in the refrigerator while the store was looted of about $15,000.

Yesterday, the high court considered this question posed in Trout's appeal: Was he coerced into a confession by Oakland police? Trout, 32, won one round in court last January when the district court of appeals reversed the conviction, holding that his confession was "psychologically coerced."

The appeals judge heard that Trout's confession was obtained after Oakland police threatened to hold his wife. The judge said the confession should never have been allowed to be introduced in evidence at the trial.

The store was robbed Dec. 22, 1957. The following night Oakland police went to Fairfax to the apartment of Allen Richardson Hecht, an ex-convict. Hecht came out with guns in both hands and was shot dead.

Police then went to Trout's home and arrested him and his wife, Shirley. They said Trout was involved with Hecht and a third person in the robbery. They said Trout became acquainted with Hecht when Hecht was serving time in San Quentin and Trout was employed as a guard there.

10 Bay Area Lending Institutions Accused Of Race Discrimination

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO—An official of the Civic Affairs Council charged yesterday that 10 leading Bay Area lending institutions practice racial discrimination in housing loans.

Frank Quinn made the charge at a special consumers' conference on credit called by Mrs. Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, California's consumer counsel.

Quinn said a recent study of the firms showed none would lend money for home financing to Negroes and other non-whites planning to move into exclusively white neighborhoods.

The institutions would grant loans only to non-whites moving into what the firms labeled "approved neighborhoods," Quinn said. He added that Orientals find it easier than Negroes to get loans because there are several Oriental banks in San Francisco.

Quinn called for a voluntary organization patterned after the Fair Employment Practices Commission to help end such racial abuses.

But a sharp difference in opinion over the value of credit turned up at the consumer conference.

A Marin County housewife maintained that charging goods "costs too much."

Burt Miller, administrative assisant of the California Retailers Assn., disagreed.

Credit "is the only way some of us can get things, paying for them by the month," he said.

The housewife, Mrs. Lois McManus of Mill Valley, told the hearing that she learned to charge things as a girl.

But today, she said, stores charge excessive interest rates and pressure their customers to pay bills immediately.

Miller said that stores' service charges are lower than any other form of interest, except interest on credit union loans.

The session heard other complaints about credit practices. Vernon Libby of Strawberry, general manager of the San Francisco Better Business Bureau and a member of the consumer counsel's advisory committee, warned of hidden financing charges.

Mrs. Ruth C. Gupta, San Francisco attorney, said thoughtless use of credit by young couples is very apt to lead to divorce. She said she handled scores of divorce cases where "credit pressures on families" led directly to domestic crisis.

Mrs. Frances Shaskan of the San Francisco Democratic Central Committee appealed for home loans and other financial aid for the aged. She said subsidized home ownership would be less of a drain on government funds than maintaining hospitals and homes for the elderly.

GOOD THING SHE DIDN'T TRY TO TIE IT

MERCED (AP)—A rattlesnake so small that Mrs. Anita Frederickson thought it was a shoelace, lay calmly at her feet while she had a telephone call in her living room.

When she discovered her error, Mrs. Frederickson stunned the rattler with a broom, tucked it into a glass jar and called the sheriff's office.

Americans spent 16.7 billion dollars for their medical care in 1958 — 300 million dollars less than they did for recreation.

Brown Considering 2 Clemency Pleas

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two slayers awaiting execution at San Quentin Prison must wait until Gov. Edmund G. Brown returns to San Francisco to learn whether their pleas for clemency were successful.

Brown yesterday heard the pleas on behalf of Charles E. Brubaker and James E. Hooton and said he would announce his decision in San Francisco.

Brubaker, convicted of killing his girl friend and her small son, is scheduled to die May 18. Hooton, who killed a Los Angeles policeman in 1958, is due to die next Friday.

Both men received stays of execution when Brown granted his controversial 60-day reprieve to Caryl Chessman. Chessman was executed Monday.

Hamilton Officer Gets Key To S.F.

Maj. Vincent Pettigrew of San Mateo was given a key to San Francisco yesterday by Mayor George Christopher.

Pettigrew, of the 8500th Air Reserve Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base, will present the key and Chrisopher's best wishes to Major Lewis Kutrer of Houston, Tex.

Pettigrew's squadron will send a team to Houston for the fourth annual reserve navigation competition May 22-29.

Christopher told Pettigrew: "Please convey to the mayor of Houston my felicitations and best wishes to him and the fine citizens of Houston."

Dixie Schedules Coffee Klatches On Tax Hike

Coffee klatches at which booklets on the proposed 62-cent Dixie School District tax increase will be passed out are to be held throughout the district.

The decision to hold the klatches was made last night at a meeting of school officials and members of a new committee which had been set up to clarify the explanation for the proposed increase.

The district now has a basic tax rate of $1.83, and, on June 7, voters will be asked whether they want it raised to $2.45 per $100 of assessed valuation. Bond redemption and "override" levies total an additional 55 cents.

The committee, meeting at the district offices, drafted an 11-page booklet containing facts relating to the proposed increase and school growth, according to District Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Willis said there are about 30 persons each in the Marinwood and Terra Linda areas, the most populous sections of the district, who host coffee klatches starting next Tuesday. The booklets will be ready on Monday, he said.

Each of the 60 persons will invite 15 to 20 persons to their homes for afternoon or evening get-togethers. An official of the district, either a board member, Willis, Asst. Supt. Joseph Goff or a principal, will "present the facts on the proposal."

Willis said the district's growth from 23 to 2,300 students in six years will be stressed, as well as the need for more tax funds. It is proposed that $28,500 to be raised by the tax hike would be used to hire a librarian and four more teachers; $9,500 would go for a curriculum specialist; $13,800 for ground improvements, and $14,000 for library and science and mathematics programs equipment.

Present at last night's meeting were Willis, Goff, Henry Pierce, John Freschel, Mrs. Angela Morris and Earl Koehler.

Boy Fails In Escape Try

A 17-year-old "bad boy" from Greenbrae tried to make a run for it at Marin Juvenile Hall last night but was caught after a 200-yard sprint by group supervisor Arnold Katz.

The youth, booked on suspicion of drunkenness and disturbing the peace, made his bid for freedom when Deputy Sheriff Douglas Gledhill left him at the juvenile hall door while he went back to his vehicle for a mattress which he was delivering to the hall at the same time. Gledhill hurt his leg while chasing the youth.

The teen-ager, who has been in trouble with the law before, was arrested at 132 Bretano way, Greenfield about 7 p.m. Arthur C. Faulk, who lives at that address, said the youth fell over his fence. Faulk said that when he approached, the youth started to fight him.

Swimming School To Open Season

The Ann Curtis Swim School at Los Ranchitos will inaugurate its second season tomorrow, under management of swim star Ann Curtis Cuneo.

"Many changes have been made in the physical layout," said Mrs. Cuneo today. "In 1959, we were rushing to get the pool completed, and we had no grounds to speak of—except dirt. This year we have a lot of shade area, green lawns, a paved parking area, and, best of all, there is no dust, dirt, or construction anywhere near the pool."

Members of the swim club can use the pool beginning tomorrow. Visitors are invited during the weekend, said Mrs. Cuneo.

Aqua-gym sessions for women will begin Monday. The exercises are designed to slim the figure.

Burning Permits To Be Required In Larkspur

Burning permits will be needed in Larkspur for all incinerators and barbecues and open burning when the fire season begins May 15, the Larkspur Fire Department announced today.

Permits may be obtained at the firehouse.

PG&E Seeks Approval Of Gas Rate Hike

The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. today applied to the California Public Utilities Commission for approval of increased rates.

The average increase proposed would add approximately three and one-half cents a day or $1.05 a month to the bills of 1,575,000 residential gas users in northern and central California.

The company said in its application that the higher costs of natural gas piped from Texas and New Mexico, plus higher costs of materials, wages and taxes, makes the increase necessary. The company asks that one-third of the rate increase go into effect Aug. 25, and the other two-thirds as soon thereafter as possible. The commission is expected to call public hearings on the application shortly.

Russ Official Talks Tough On Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko warned again today that the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany if the Big Four powers fail to agree on an all-German settlement.

Gromyko also said the Soviet Union and its Warsaw Pact allies will guard the East German borders. He made it plain the Soviet Union considers West Berlin would lie within that off-limits region, with access to the city then to be controlled by the East German regime which the Allies refuse to recognize.

Gromyko, in a speech to the Supreme Soviet, was just as firm in expressing determination to drive the Western powers out of West Berlin as Premier Nikita Khrushchev was in his speech at Baku 10 days ago.

Necklace Returned To S. F. Owner

A valuable pearl necklace with a diamond clasp, found on a San Rafael street, was returned to its owner by San Rafael police yesterday.

The necklace, valued at about $600, belonged to Mrs. Dolores Irwin Jacobs of San Francisco, wife of Dr. S. Nicholas Jacobs. She told Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa the necklace was a wedding gift from her husband, who bought it in San Francisco in 1943.

Mrs. Jacobs read about the discovery of the gem in the Independent-Journal and called at the police station. She indicated that the Novato woman who found it would get a reward. The finder, who wants to remain anonymous, works at the telephone building on Fourth street, a few blocks from where the necklace was found.

Encyclopedia Company Opens Novato Office

Encyclopedia Britannica has opened an office in Novato at 997 Second street under management of Richard T. Stockton.

It is the first time the Britannica has established headquarters in North Marin, said Stockton, who is from Santa Rosa and formerly represented the company in that area.

SOLE POWER SOUGHT

Brown Asks Clemency Restriction Be Lifted

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown called today for a constitutional amendment to give California governors exclusive power in clemency cases.

He referred to the fact that at present the chief executive cannot act in death penalty cases involving two-time losers like Caryl Chessman without majority approval of the state Supreme Court.

Brown, who is opposed to capital punishment, told his news conference that sometimes he'd like to get rid of his clemency powers altogether.

"But if you are going to give any individual the right to exercise clemency," he added, "it should be given to him without restriction."

He said the people just didn't seem to understand that there was nothing he could do to save Chessman once the Supreme Court refused to recommend clemency.

The governor said he is still getting wires from all over the world "that are brutal in nature." However, he put in, he is also getting wires commending his position on Chessman.

Brown expressed belief that if the issue went to the voters today, repeal of the death penalty would be defeated.

He said he hopes Republicans will join with his own Democratic Party in working to wipe the law off the books. "I think the people could be persuaded," he said.

He said he's sure that fewer people favor capital punishment than before Chessman was executed Monday.

Some groups in the state have proposed an initiative measure, intended for the November ballot, to abolish capital punishment.

Brown said he's thinking in terms of legislation, but he declined to commit himself to submitting a repealer to the 1961 Legislature. However, in a speech last night, he said he would do so.

A special session in early March rejected a moratorium bill.

Brown again refused to answer questions on what he might have done if the Supreme Court had supported the application for clemency for Chessman.

He noted that despite his views on capital punishment, nine or 10 prisoners have gone to their death since he became governor.

"I intend to follow my oath of office and not put myself above the law," he said.

The governor said that if the Legislature again refuses to modify the controversial statute, "I'll try my level best to enforce the laws."

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today in moderate trading. Selected issues made wide gains.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,600,000 shares compared with 2,670,000 yesterday.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule among key stocks. Electronics and other issues which have attracted speculative interest made bigger strides.

San Rafael Asks County Road Funds

San Rafael wants $50,000 in county money for continuation of joint effort to improve San Pedro road and Third street, the Marin County Board of Supervisors was informed yesterday.

Mayor John F. McInnis sent a letter advising that the city council has passed a resolution of intention to proceed with the work. An engineering survey has been completed. San Rafael will put up $50,000 and asks the county to match that amount. A joint undertaking of city and county on the project has been under way for three years.

The supervisors decided to put the request on its calendar for action Tuesday.

Foreign Aid Compromise Hammered Out

WASHINGTON (UPI)— House-Senate conferees agreed today on a compromise $4,086,200,000 bill authorizing another year of foreign military, economic and technical aid.

The total is $88,800,000 less than the $4,175,000,000 originally proposed by President Eisenhower and $39,300,000 less than the $4,125,600,000 voted by the Senate.

However, it is $47,800,000 more than the $4,038,500,000 voted in the House bill.

The conferees took some of the teeth out of a controversial Senate amendment requiring itemized individual expense accounts of all congressmen and staff members traveling abroad on official business. The compromise requires expense accounts only by committees and subcommittees for any trip.

The Senate accepted a flat House ban on any military aid to Fidel Castro's Cuban regime. Cuba is not now receiving any.

Princess Margrethe, 19-year-old heiress to the throne of Denmark, is studying constitutional law at the University of Copenhagen.

Errant Dad Guilty Of Non-Support

A former Corte Madera auto salesman, who left his third wife and five children last July to start life anew in Iowa with his fourth wife, was found guilty yesterday of felony non-support.

Robert Decker, 43, the errant father, is scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court Monday for sentencing. Maximum penalty is five years in prison.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Hadden Roth, prosecutor, convinced a jury of Decker's guilt in a three day triai before Judge N. Charles Brusatori. The jurors deliberated only a half hour.

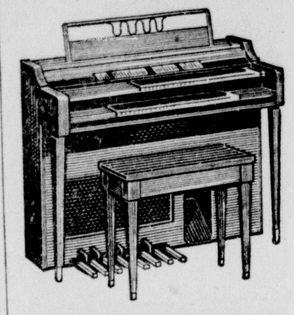

Investigator William Bemiss, who tracked Decker to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, said the man's Corte Madera family has received about $12,000 in welfare aid since 1953.

Last July, right after his release from a Marin County Jail term for bad checks, Decker took off for Oregon. On the way, he met Mrs. Edith Heard of Napa. Investigator Bemiss said they got dlivorces in Mexico and married each other. Then they went to live in Cedar Rapids.

His fourth wife was in court every day during the trial.

Wagner's tragic opera, "Tristan and Isolde," was first performed in Munich in 1865.

Sad Sam Duels Pirates' Unbeaten Vern Law Tonight

Vernon Sanders Law, who once played baseball for Fairfax Grammar School, will lead the swashbuckling Pittsburgh Pirates into Candlestick Park tonight to battle Sam "Available" Jones and the San Francisco Giants in what is expected to be a torrid pitching duel.

The first Pirate-Giant series of the season will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Jones, now 2-2 in the win-lost column, meets a sharp hurler in Law who has won his first four decisions without taking a loss and gone the distance each time. The tall righthander attended Fairfax Grammar School in the early 1940s, but later returned to his home in Idaho.

The 30-year-old Law is an ordained minister of the Mormon Church. Last year he scored 18 victories. He got his professional start with Santa Rosa in the Far West League in 1948.

The Giants will be out to snap a two-game losing slump. Cincinnati, which has now won four straight, handed the Giants their second straight one-run loss yesterday, 4-3, as Vada Pinson stole three bases.

The fleet centerfielder from Oakland's McClymonds High took a hand in winning the the game when he stole second and third bases during the eighth inning, then came home on a sacrifice fly by pinch-hitter Willie Jones.

"Yeah, you have to look out for that Pinson," Giant Manager Bill Rigney said afterward. "He's as fast as anybody I've seen."

Johnny Antonelli made his debut in Candlestick Park and first start of the season before a crowd of 11,457, but his appearance was somewhat lost in the shuffle after he retired at the end of seven innings.

Cincinnati won it in the next frame at the expense of Stu Miller (0-1) who put the tying and winning runs on base. The Massachusetts junk-baller opened the inning by hitting Eddie Kasko with a pitched ball. Pinson followed with a single to center that chased Kasko around to third.

Then Eddie raced in with the tying run when Mays made a routine toss of Pinson's hit back to second base and the ball bounced away from Don Blasingame. Mays was charged with his second error of the day.

One out later, Miller walked Frank Robinson and Rigney then sent in lefty Mike McCormick. A left-handed hitter, Tony Gonzalez, had come up to bat for Lee Walls, but was replaced by right-handed swinging Willie Jones when Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Reds saw the Giants' southpaw coming out. Jones hoisted a sacrifice fly to Mays in center which brought across the winner.

San Francisco had taken a 2-0 lead in the fifth inning on a triple by Mays—his second of the day—which was wafted away from second baseman Billy Martin in short right field and scored two men.

The Reds tied it with three straight hits, two of them doubles, off Antonelli, in the sixth. Then Orlando Cepeda's fourth homer of the campaign off winner Bob Purkey (1-1) in the sixth put the Giants back on top temporarily.

Antonelli gave up four hits, three of them doubles, during the seven innings he pitched. Purkey was relieved in the eighth by Bill Henry, Red strikeout artist, who fanned four batters he set down.

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Bucs Have Compiled Top Record At Home; Road Ability Is Questioned

HANLEY

Somehow we can't get unduly excited about the classy early footing of the Pirates, now on deck at Candlestick for their first series of '60 with the Giants. Perhaps it is a prejudicial lassitude prompted by our pre-season picks listing Pittsburgh for the No. 5 slot at the end of the campaign, not only behind the Giants, Braves, Dodgers but also the Redlegs.

Maybe, when the campaign is over, that wise old secretary of the Giants, Eddie Brannick, will be able to say: "What did I tell you?" Brannick still finds it difficult to understand the almost universal rating of the Pirates no higher than fourth. He always has respected them because they are a fighting outfit.

It's true that there is no tougher ball club to beat than the Pirates in Forbes Field. They are real swashbucklers at home. Didn't they take three in a row from the Braves in Pittsburgh just a week ago before starting their current road trip? That series sweep ran their home record to 8-2.

Before Hank Aaron and the Braves left Candlestick earlier in the week, Aaron said: "The Pirates are tough, real tough, in Forbes. But let's wait and see what they do on the road before getting excited."

EVERYBODY, excluding Elroy Face who couldn't hope to come anywhere near his fabulous 18-1 in relief last season, has been making Danny Martaugh's wad of tobacco taste sweeter than it ever has to the Pirate manager.

Bob Friend has been pitching like the 22-game winner he was in '58. Vern Law, Harvey Haddix and 6-4 southpaw rookie Joe Gibbon, who was University of Mississippi's basketball star in the 1957 NCAA tournament, also have been responsible for more than a few wins.

Coupled with the fine mound performances, Murtaugh's men from the lead-off batter Don Hoak down to Bill Mazeroski in the eighth batting position have been slugging the ball. Gino Cimoli, pride of San Francisco's North Beach who was swapped to the Pirates by the Cardinals for pitcher Ronnie Kline, can't seem to get back in the lineup after appearing in five early games.

"WHAT DOES Pittsburgh need with another outfielder?" Cimoli asked last December when the trade was made.

The way Bob Skinner, Billy Virdon and Roberto Clemente have been playing the outfield and the way they have been hitting doesn't give Cimoli much chance at present.

During their high-riding streak of nine games, Clemente bagged a grand slammer, his fourth homer of the campaign. Hoak and Mazeroski also got in the home run act, not grand slammers, and so did Hal Smith, Smokey Burgess' relief man behind the plate. However, Smith's duties have been confined to pinch-hit roles and double-header duty because Burgess, like the rest of the Pirates, has been slashing the ball. In fact, if he hits it any better he may catch the N.L. leader, Willie Mays.

IGNORING all of the pessimism about Pirate chances before the campaign started, the lantern-jawed, tobacco-chewing Murtaugh said: "If Mazeroski, Friend, Skinner, Virdon and Groat come through for us this year, we have a chance—a very good chance, I might add. Last year those five didn't have the kind of year we expected of them."

As Murtaugh and the Pirates come into Candlestick tonight for their first visit he was asked: "Are those five coming through as expected?"

He shot a stream of brown stuff into the grass before countering with a question of his own:

"What do you think?"

Tension Crackles On Eve Of The Derby; Tompion Favored

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Tension almost crackled in the air at Churchill Downs today where 14 colts await tomorrow's running of the Kentucky Derby, but nerves in the stable area are more relaxed than usual only one day before the big race.

The man with the 7-5 favorite carries the heaviest burden. But Bob Wheeler, who trains Tompion for C. W. Whitney, felt a lot more confident this time than he did a year ago. Then he was "shooting at the moon" with a filly and now he says, "I wish we had run Silver Spoon in the Kentucky Oaks instead."

He is now confident for many reasons. His colt had won four races in a row, including the Santa Anita Derby and the Blue Grass Stakes. After the Blue Grass Stakes he "went on" to run the full mile and one-quarter Kentucky Derby distance in the sparkling time of 2:01 4/5, fast enough to win all but three Rose runs.

Wheeler by no means thinks Tompion has a "boat ride" ahead of him in the 86th edition of the first "Triple Crown" classic. He has a lot of respect for Bally Ache, a 5-2 pick, for Venetian Way and for Victoria Park, a colt "that runs hard races," he says.

Jimmy Pitt who trains Bally Ache, is a more familiar figure at Sunshine Park than Churchill Downs. He seems to be having the time of his life in Kentucky and has been tabbed as the happiest man in the place.

But then everything has been going his way from the injury which took Beau Purple, another speed horse, out of the race, to the draw for post positions, to the possibility of rain.

Vic Sovinsky firmly believes he has a good shot at America's most coveted racing prize and one he would give his eye teeth to win. The pleasant trainer came close with Lincoln Road, second to Tim Tam two years ago. He believes Venetian Way can make it.

Most of the other trainers have no illusions. Many of them admit their horses do not belong in the field or have a chance at fourth money at best, but the owners wanted the horses to run and so Spring Broker, Yomolka, Cuvier Relic, Lurullah, Tony Graff, Hillsborough, Fighting Hodge, Henrijan, Bourbon Prince and Divine Comedy were named.

Knox was hospitalized.

Thrilling Duel Seen In Marin Swim Meet

Tamalpais Indians and Redwood Giants, who swam to a rare tie in last year's North Bay League swimming championships, are expected to lock up in another ding-dong battle tomorrow in the first annual Marin County Athletic League meet at Tam's pool.

Heats will begin at 9:30 a.m. and finals, to be broadcast for the first time by Radio KTIM, at 2 p.m. Admission charges are $1 for adults and 25 cents for holders of student body cards.

According to past performances Redwood has five potential first places, while Tam has four.

The Giants are expected to be paced again by Dick Chambers who is favored in the 400-yard freestyle and the 200 individual medley. Other Giants rated as good bets to win their specialties are Dave Corbet in the 100 freestyle, Ken Frost in the 100 breast and the 200 medley relay team.

Tam's favorites are Rick Snow in the 200 free, Jeff McCreary in the 100 back, Sandy English in diving and the 200 freestyle relay team.

Breaking into the Tam-Redwood domination, according to dope sheets, will be Pete Sagues of Drake in the 50 freestyle and Pete Stokeley of San Rafael in the 100 butterfly.

Tam won the MCAL dual meet championship with five victories and no defeats.

Tam is favored in the Class B division with Tony DePrado favored in two events.

Cats Outnumber Dogs

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sales of cat food will top $60 million and cats will eat up another $45 million worth of dog food in 1960, according to the Puss 'n' Boots division of the Quaker Oats Co.

The cat food manufacturer said that the current U.S. cat population totals 28 million, compared with 26 million dogs. It also estimated that 24 per cent of American families — about 12 million—own one or more cats.

Little League Win Streak Is Broken

The Realtors' 17-game winning streak, extending back into last year, was broken last night as they suffered a 2-1 upset loss to the Yankees in the Mill Valley National Little League.

BOWLING

THE FOUR Gutter Rats — John Figarelle, Sadie Center, Frank Keel and Sunny Bennett —won the Monday night Mixed Fours League this week at Marin Bowl. They compiled a record of 34 victories, just one-half game ahead of Team 4 and the Mixed Fits who tied for second.

ED STENBERG of "The Saints" rolled a 560 series with steady line of 184, 187 and 189 to lead the Lutheran Mixed League at Country Club Bowl.

Les Rowden had a 528 total, Frank Keaton 511 and Ruth Rowden 494.

LORY AMARAL again led latest outing of the Hamilton Field NCO Wives League with 168-168-171—507. Some of the better games were 170 by Frances Hatchell, 168-169 by Dee Griffin, 176-165 by Ann Nordyke, 168 by Margaret Guttendorf, 164 by Dorothy Butler and 160 by Betty Halloran and Pet Berto.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Sievers Paces Hot Chisox; Pirates Extend Loop Lead

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Don't be fooled by that .219 batting average—Roy Sievers is adding some boom to the Chicago White Sox' zoom.

The American League champions are finally straightened out after their stumbling start and with seven victories in their last nine games are in a virtual tie for first place with the New York Yankees.

Sievers, acquired from the Washington Senators for $125,000, has been swinging a productive bat. Despite his low batting average he ranks second to Minnie Minoso on the club with 10 runs batted in and he's knocked in at least one run in five of the White Sox' last six games.

That's the way it's been with Roy for most of his career—a low average hitter who drives in a lot of runs—and as far as White Sox' President Bill Veeck is concerned that's fine with him.

Sievers returned to Washington for the first time since the big deal last night and celebrated with a first-inning, two-run homer that paved the way for a 5-3 triumph over the Senators. Bob Shaw gained credit for his second win although he needed relief aid from Turk Lown in the eighth.

The victory enabled the White Sox to remain one game ahead of the third-place Cleveland Indians, who beat the Baltimore Orioles, 11-6, in the only other American League game.

PIRATES RALLY

The Pittsburgh Pirates increased their National League lead to two games with a 9-7 triumph that spoiled Lou Boudreau's debut as manager of the Chicago Cubs; the Cincinnati Reds shaded the San Francisco Giants, 4-3; the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3, and the Philadelphia Phillies topped the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1.

Bill Virdon's ninth-inning triple drove in two runs that broke a 7-7 tie and snapped the Pirates' two-game losing streak. The Cubs had built an early 7-2 lead, but the Pirates tied the score in the seventh with the aid of Roberto Clemente's three-run homer. Rookie Fred Green gained his second win for the Pirates.

SHERRY STARS

World Series hero Larry Sherry pitched four shutout innings in relief and Bob Aspromonte finally won it for the Dodgers with a 10th-inning single. Don Demeter previously had homered for Los Angeles while Mel Roach and Hank Aaron hit homers for the Braves. The win was Sherry's second against three losses.

Jim Owens pitched a five-hitter and rookies Frank Herrera and Ken Walters each homered for the Phillies, who dealt Vinegar Bend Mizell his second defeat. Owens walked five and struck out four in going the distance.

'Uknowns' Set Pace In Tourney Of Champions

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Led by Dave Ragan and Don Whitt, two capable but relatively unknown professionals, the field of 21 select players headed into the second round of the $42,000 Tournament of Champions today.

Ragan, 24, from Orlando, Fla., and Whitt, 29, from Borrego Springs, Calif., whacked five strokes off par 72 yesterday.

As play resumed over the 7,000-yard, par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club course, the two were one stroke ahead of Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., and veteran Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La.

Four players were tied at 69. They were Art Wall Jr., Ken Venturi, Jack Fleck and Jerry Barber.

Three strokes behind the leaders were Julius Boros, Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford and Bob Rosburg.

Arnold Palmer, the ruling Masters champion and pre-tournament favorite here, was at even par 72, along with defending champion Mike Souchak and Eric Monti of Los Angeles.

U. S. Open champion Billy Casper Jr. shot a 73, as did Tom Nieport and George Bayer.

Gene Littler, who won this rich event three straight years, had a 75, highest of the round.

Big Meet A Tossup; Final Event May Decide Winner

STANFORD (AP) — The Big Meet—California vs. Stanford—comes off here tomorrow with this 65th renewal promising to be a toss-up down to the final event, the mile relay.

The track meet is but one of many Stanford-Cal sports wars over the weekend.

The baseball teams played today and Saturday at Berkeley. Alumni baseball players meet here tomorrow. Tennis players compete at Berkeley tomorrow and frosh track teams vie here today. Crews from the two schools will row in Redwood City Harbor before the meet.

California Track Coach Brutus Hamilton will be going for his fourth consecutive victory over Stanford and Coach Payton Jordan. He may have trouble getting it.

Stanford has Ernie Cunliffe, one of the nation's top middle distance men. He has a 4:00.4 mile and 1:47.3 half mile this spring. His top competition comes from Jerry Siebert, undefeated in seven half-mile and mile outings this year, but whose best times, 4:12.4 and 1:49.5, don't match the Stanford captain's.

California senior Willie White will be going after an unprecedented third year Big Meet triple. He won the 100, 220 and 220 low hurdles in 1958 and 1959.

Cal rates the edge in the mile relay with a 3:12.3 best compared to 3:13 for the Indians.

PCL Marathon Won By Bees; Giants, Indians Divide

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Salt Lake City's defending champions and the Portland Beavers got off the longest game of the Pacific Coast League season to date last night, a 15-inning marathon that took almost four hours to play. The Bees won it 8-5.

The Spokane Indians, with a chance to boost their league lead, had to settle for a split in a doubleheader with Tacoma's Giants, losing 3-1, then winning 12-2. The Tribe's one-half game lead held tight.

The San Diego Padres blanked Vancouver's last-place Mounties 4-0 and the Sacramento Solons shut out Seattle's Rainiers by the same count, the first whitewash job of the season for the Suds.

Juan Marichal spun a masterful three-hitter for the Giants in their opener against the Injuns, striking out eight and walking only there men in the eight innings the scheduled seven-inning tilt went. Danny O'Connell's double and singles by Jose Pagan and Bob Farley gave Tacoma two runs in the eighth.

The Indians rattled 14 hits off five Tacoma pitchers in the nightcap, including home runs by Charlie Smith, Frank Howard and Ron Fairly. The homers by Smith and Howard were good for three runs apiece. Fairly's was a solo affair.

Cal Bowlers Take ABC Doubles Lead

TOLEDO, Cal. (AP)—A California instructor's decision to risk using a cracked bowling ball in his American Bowling Congress appearance may have been the biggest payoff gamble in this year's meet.

Andy Marzich, Norwalk, Calif., discovered his favorite ball was cracked two weeks ago after rolling a 300 game in exhibition play. While the damaged ball rolled perfectly, Marzich knew he was taking a big chance in bringing it here for ABC play.

There was always the possibility the crack would enlarge and render the ball unfit by ABC tournament standards. Marzich didn't want to try using a new ball so he brought the cracked one along.

The gamble paid off yesterday as Marzich bowled a 706 total and his partner, Dick Jensen, 663. Their 1,369 took first place in doubles from Andy Hudo and Jack Baum of Youngstown, Ohio, who had led since March 23 with 1358.

SWEET REWARD FOR LITTLE SLUGGERS

Curtiss Candy Co. supplied Lee Brothers Market with a 100-pound giant Baby Ruth bar for advertising purposes. It was great advertising—but who's going to eat a 100-pound bar of candy? Paul Moore, store manager, figured out the answer. He'd give it to the Little League. The presentation got varying reactions, with Steve Wallace of the Marinwood Tigers (left) licking his lips at the prospect, and Jerry Santiago of the Marinwood Giants thinking about all the stomach aches in that much candy. WEEKEND YACHTING

Cruisers Take Off In Vallejo Regatta

By ALFRED MATSON

Tomorrow is a big day on the calendars of not only the race-minded sailors, but for the cruiser pilots as well.

For tomorrow action on the bounding main becomes purposeful in both categories; competition with their fellow sailors in boat handling, plus battling the vagaries of both wind and tide. From the entry lists both events will make history in topping all previous records.

It is a two-day race for the sailing clan, the long established Vallejo Regatta, with tomorrow's leg starting off Richmond and finishing approximately one mile down the channel from the Vallejo Yacht Club's clubhouse. Sunday's hassel will follow the same course, but in reverse.

The starting line is between YRA mark 27 and the committee boat, with the big boats in Cruising Club "A" getting the starter's gun at 12 noon.

Subsequent groupings will take off at five-minute intervals with the Pacific Clippers, Carinita and Fleur Bleue classes tail ending the parade at 1 p.m.

For Sunday's return leg there will be a certain regrouping of the classes and divisions and, too, the little fellers, who for a change of pace, will be at the front end of the procession. First starts will be at 9:30 a.m.

THE NORTHERN California Power Cruiser Assn. will launch its 1960 racing season tomorrow with a shakedown race on the Oakland Estuary, sponsored by the Oakland Y. C. Starts will be on a line running 207 degrees true from the east edge of Franklin Street.

And so the weekend is rich in promise for the lads who enjoy the sharp tang of competitive sailing and, to further whetten their appetites, there are races scheduled for every weekend in May.

Fire Truck Display At Li'l Loop Opener

The Tiburon Fire Department's 1,000 pumper fire truck will be on display during the Tiburon peninsula Little League opener at Judge Field in Tiburon tomorrow as part of California's Fire Service Day.

According to Tiburon Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher, members of the Tiburon Volunteer Fire Department will be on hand to answer questions and distribute pamphlets on fire conservation.

PASTRANO VS. JOHNSON IN TV GO TONIGHT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Willie Pastrano, who claims he has picked up speed afoot to go with a nice jab and fast hands, aims for revenge tonight in a nationally televised (NBC) 10-round fight with Alonzo Johnson.

Johnson, an aggressive puncher, nipped Pastrano in a unanimous but close decision here last summer.

Pastrano figures to come in around 177 pounds. The 24-year-old New Orleans fighter has a 52-8-5 record.

Johnson, 25, from Braddock, Pa., is 18-4. He is expected to weigh in around 185 pounds.

MARIN COUNTY TRACK RELAYS AT TAMALPAIS HIGH TOMORROW

First annual Marin County Relays, sponsored by the San Rafael Elks Lodge, will be held tomorrow at Tamalpais High School.

All six schools in the Marin County Athletic League will compete in A, B and C divisions. The field events will start at 1 p.m. and the track events at 2 p.m.

Several members of the Elks will help school faculty members officiate the large event.

Winning teams will receive trophies and individual winners will be awarded medals.

Director of the meet is Glidden Benefield, whose Tamalpais Indians are favored to win the Relays and next Saturday's MCAL finals at San Rafael.

L.A. Chargers Sign Ex-Green Bay Star

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Green Bay fullback Howie Ferguson and Ernie Wright, 6-4, 260-pound Ohio State tackle, have signed their 1960 contracts with the Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League.

Ferguson, who played with the Packers for six years, was out of football last season.

Olympic Game Boxers Train At Hamilton

Navy and Air Force champions were the first to go into training for the Olympic Games Boxing Finals, slated for May 18-19-20 at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

Boxers who won their titles in tournaments held in the East arrived in San Francisco by plane Monday.

Coach Bill Ross has quartered his Air Force scrappers at Hamilton Air Base. The Navy lads are stationed at Hunters Point.

A number of NCAA titleholders, who won crowns at Madison, Wis. earlier this month are working out at San Jose State. They are the five Spartans coached by Jules Menendez, who will serve as the coach of the U. S. team which goes to Rome in August.

Eighty of America's outstanding amateurs are in competition in the 10 weight classes.

There are several repeaters from the 1956 Trials, but no winners will be back in action.

Two among the repeaters are Terry Smith, Sacramento State middleweight and Harold Espy, a heavyweight from Pocatello. He formerly boxed for Idaho State College.

Tickets for the three shows are selling at a brisk clip. Those wishing to make reservations can write Olympic Games Boxing, Room 1217, Hearst Building, San Francisco. Prices are $4-$3-$2.

Riemcke Relays At Redwood Tomorrow

Track and field meet for elementary school students in the Redwood High School District has been scheduled for tomorrow at Redwood, Director Bob Troppman announced yesterday.

Named the "Riemcke Relays" after its founder, Cal Riemcke, the meet will start at 9 a.m. Boys and girls in the fifth through eighth grades are eligible to compete.

Mays Admits He Changes Batting Style For Candlestick Breezes

CONNOLLY

No, it is no rib or gag, but a fact that Willie Mays, when asked about playing conditions at Candlestick Park, waved his right arm with the thumb downward, a silent way of say it was the "nertz."

Maybe I'll get kicked out of the Giants' clubhouse on my sliding pads for mentioning it, but it occurs to me that the remark, coming from the National League's leading hitter, truly is significant.

It means that the "Say Hey" outfielder already has adjusted his sights to a new scheme of hitting. At least when he plays at home.

"Willie Mays," so Duke Snider was saying, "is one of baseball's genuine stars. And he tells the truth. It is no trade secret with Willie when he admits he's a leftfield hitter, but when he says he has to change his style while playing at home, that's enough for me."

Another baseball gent of high rating — Charley Dressen — was so concerned at the stories floating out about Candlestick Park winds that he sent a "wind expert" in advance of his club's debut last Monday. The report Dressen received from the expert was very similar to the story Willie Mays conveyed.

BUT DRESSEN only would state that Candlestick Park can be conquered. At least after a fashion.

Dressen's comment about his hat blowing off in leftfield and having to chase it into rightfield might have been a little far fetched, but it told the story his research men brought back to him.

So if anybody tells you the Giants do not change their hitting habits while at Candlestick Park, just laugh it off. Definitely playing conditions, to some extent, change in every ball park. But particularly is this so in the Giants' park.

"Everybody on the club swings a few seconds later than usual," one coach told me, "to push pitches to the right side of the diamond."

ONE EXPERT in Los Angeles just sighed when he mentioned what the Chicago White Sox would have done to the Giants had they met in Candlestick Park in the World Series of 1959.

"It would have been plain murder for the iGants," my expert friend said, "because Candlestick Park is made to order for a hit and run club or a team that plays the style of attack the White Sox do."

Bob Schmidt, Giant catcher, Orlando Cepeda, before he got smacked down, Eddie Bressoud, and Felipe Alou are players with the Giants, besides Mays, who are penalized by the winds at Candlestick Park. And all of 'em have made adjustments and are now "leveling" to right and short centerfield.

The injury to Cepeda in the Coliseum game was an unfortunate break for the Puerto Rican athlete. He was just commencing to find the range when he made the mistake of going into second base attempting to break up a double play, standing up.

MAURY WILLS, the Dodgers shortstop who kicked Cepeda on the head, purposely tried to avoid striking Orlando. In fact the pictures showed him throwing side arm to "clear" Cepeda. But the Giant first sacker came in high and the ball belted him over the ear and flattened him as though he fell out of a three story window.

Strange as it may seem, there wasn't any rumbles or screaming when Cepeda was felled, which goes to show you the players on both teams agreed it was an accident and wasn't done for the purpose of crippling the Giant.

Sometimes I have "me doubts" on such things.

San Rafael Lad Wins Expert Rifleman Medal

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Expert Rifleman Medal, second highest award in American Junior shooting, has been won by Warren Alan Bostick of 40 Twain Harte Lane, San Rafael, the National Rifle Assn. announced here today.

Shooting several hundred targets in the last few months the new expert marskman fired his way through 13 lower NRA qualifications to achieve his new rating. With one more set of targets to fire the new expert will up his rating to Distinguished Rifleman, the select top rating for the junior shooters of the nation.

The new junior expert attends San Rafael Military Academy.

MARIN TRIO ENTERED IN DIVING MEET

A team of three Marin County men will compete for honors Sunday in the Central California Skin-Diving Championships at Salt Point Beach, north of Fort Ross.

They are Al Giddings Jr., Bob Foster and George Tsegeletos, all members of the Marin Skin Diving Club.

The competition, all free diving includes four hours of spear fishing. Fish poundage determines the winning teams, according to Giddings, and the top teams will qualify for the Pacific Coast championships at Monterey.

BOWLING

New Leagues Getting Set For Summer

Summer leagues are still being formed, reports Manager Dave Rivera of Country Club Bowl, San Rafael.

A "540 Trio League" will be organized next Tuesday, 8 p.m. while three junior leagues also will get going next week. Meetings are Wednesday, Friday and Sunday, May 15, all at 6:30 p.m. Boys, Girls and Mixed Foursome leagues are planned.

A REAL oddity occurred at Country Club the other night when all five members of the Patio Cocktail Lounge team score a 159 game on the last line of their three-game series. They were John Doherty, Walt Hammerman, Frank Kaczmarek, Fletcher Bates and Jack White.

LEE GOLSCH and Jean Molino cracked the "500" barrier this week in Coffee Cuppers League at Greenbrae.

Lee totaled 518 on games of 144, 199 and 188 while Mrs. Molino blasted a 210 game to pace her 508. Her other lines were 110 and 188.

Other leading scorers were Eunice Jalo 471, Jeanne Blumenfeld 469 and Dottie Rosso 440.

DAVIS SAW Service team, the "Flying Sawcers" have clinched the YWC League championship at Country Club Bowl. With two weeks remaining, the Sawcers hold an eight-game lead over second place.

TUESDAY Handicap League results from Greenbrae: Duke's Shell Service (George Haggett, 524) d. Frank's Barber Shop (Ed Henry, 570) by 4-0; Ross Merchants (Dick Wagner, 552) d. Twin Oaks Floor Co. (Jack Watson, 571) by 3-1; Louis George Men's Wear (George Savy, 578) d. Payless Drugs (Bill Richtman, 536) by 3-1; LaMarie (Mike Weddell, 565) tied Northwestern Savings and Loan (Marty Flynn, 536) 2-2 and Rose Bowl Chateau (Ted Wensloff, 473) tied Lebakos Insurance (George Wark, 566).

MIXED MATES League, Greenbrae: Bob Stevenson (585) d. John Shelly (466); Fred Thurman (545) over Ken Green (501); Paul Ross (535) over Alan Ross (441).

Bob Stevenson hit a 235 game, Fred Thurman a 219 and Mike Curly 215. Leading gals were Sylvia DeVere 190, Lelah Berry 173 and Karole Curly 168.

BILL GERTON of Novato came mighty close to a 300 game yesterday morning at Country Club. He fired five strikes, split the sixth frame, then struck out.

Barlovento Nears Finish In Yacht Race To Ensenada

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The 83-foot Barlovento, skippered by E. R. Chilcott of Newport Harbor Yacht Club, seemed likely to be the first over the finish line today in the 13th annual Newsport-to-Ensenada Yacht Race.

As darkness settled at the Todos Santos Bay finish line last night the Barlovento was off La Jolla and moving fast despite a light wind.

Since over-all honors are computed on a handicap basis, the Barlovento may not be the winner, however. The defending champion, Carousel, a 40-foot cutter from San Diego Yacht Club, was only three miles behind, and on the handicap yardstick, seemed in a good spot to repeat her 1959 victory.

KTIM AWARD

'Mother Of Year' Reared 8 Children

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

An attractive blonde woman, nearly 70 years old, who once sang and danced in vaudeville, is radio station KTIM's "Marin Mother of the Year." She has reared one child of her own plus seven foster sons and daughters.

The honored mother is Mrs. Edmond F. Ryan of 909 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur, a native of Mendocino County and a Marin resident for 56 years.

A warm-hearted woman who "always loved kids," Margaret Armstrong Ryan reared her own daughter, Charlma, took two little orphan boys from Sunny Hills into her home, reared three nieces, a cousin and her granddaughter.

She received money only for the two orphan boys. Mrs. Ryan saved that allotment and gave it to the boys when they completed school.

She also cared for her invalid mother and father in her home for 15 years.

"It's wonderful," said Mrs. Ryan when she learned of the title best bestowed on her by KTIM. Listeners nominated mothers for the honor in the station's second annual contest. Her daughter nominated Mrs. Ryan.

Wrote the daughter, Charlma (Mrs. H. E. O'Brien), "Her life has been colorful, productive and characterized by service and devotion to others."

Recalling the years in show business and the later years in a house bursting with youngsters, Mrs. Ryan smiles: "We've had a full life."

Young Margaret Armstrong came of a family with a proud heritage. Her grandfather, Judge Edwin Budd, established the first newspapers in Grass Valley in the gold mining days, in Ukiah in 1860, and in Santa Rosa about 1858. Her father was a correctional officer at San Quentin Prison for 35 years. Margaret went ot school at San Quentin and at the old Fourth Street School in San Rafael.

She met her husband in 1906 in San Francisco after the earthquake and fire when both went to work in a printing plant. In 1908 they formed a song and dance act and went into show business. They were married two years later.

The couple played in vaudeville and musical comedy, and Margaret also worked in the chorus. They played on the same bills with Al Jolson, Will Rogers, Sophie Tucker and W. C. Fields.

They would play San Francisco four days, Oakland three days, then move on to Los Angeles and Salt Lake City. "It was a tough life in those days," she recalls.

She left the business to have her baby, then rejoined the act when Charlma was four months old. But in 1916 they left the stage, except for playing an occasional club date.

Mrs. Ryan took two little brothers, age 3 and 8, into her home from Sunny Hills orphanage, and reared them. John Davisson, now nearly 40, is a merchant seaman, just returned from Turkey. His younger brother, Bert, enlisted in World War II, was a technical sergeant at 18 in the Army Air Forces, and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. He is now a medical missionary overseas.

Two young nieces, age 8 and 6, needed her, so Mrs. Ryan took them in, too. One, Betty, died of tuberculosis at 25. The other, Izzett, now lives in Healdsburg, is married and has three children.

A cousin, Bernice, lived with the Ryans from age 14 to age 18. Her mother had been shot to death and her father deserted her. Today she is married and living in Salt Lake City, "doing very well," says Mrs. Ryan happily.

Another niece, Mabel, a polio victim, came to live with the family when she was 8, and stayed until she married.

Mrs. Ryan's daughter contracted tuberculosis and was an invalid for years. So the task of rearing her daughter, Michele, was also Mrs. Ryan's. Michele is now 17 and will be graduated from Marin Catholic High school this month.

During the depression Mrs. Ryan worked at Sunny Hills for a while, and off and on has been a practical nurse "to keep the budget going."

Her husband taught graphic arts for the College of Marin in the San Quentin educational program. He retired in 1953 and is a semi-invalid.

"All the children were high school graduates, and went to college if they wanted to. We clothed and fed them," Mrs. Ryan says with justifiable pride.

Her daughter recalls that at one time "there were nine of us living here, and we had to eat in two shifts. We called it togetherness, sitting in each other's laps."

The Ryans have had a "retirement home" for many years on the south fork of the Eel River in Mendocino County. The youngsters loved to hunt and fish there, she says.

Mrs. Ryan's looks belie the 70th birthday she will celebrate in October. In August she and her husband will celebrate their golden wedding.

Mrs. Ryan is "indefatigable, incorrigibly optimistic, and impossible to convince that she should take it easy. And she is the most attractive 70-year-old in this county or any other," her daughter wrote.

The Marin Mother of the Year was interviewed by station manager Hugh Turner on KTIM today. Turner and Independent-Journal society editor Florence Donnelly were judges of the contest and interviewed the finalists.

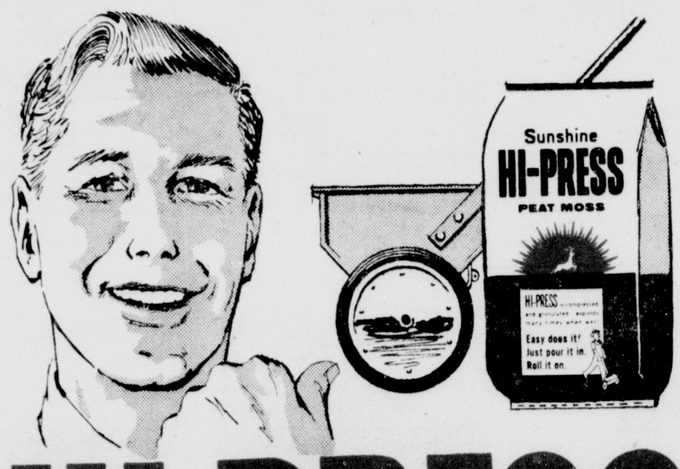

Mrs. Ryan will receive a number of gifts from merchants.

A MOTHER FOR MOTHER'S DAY. Little Denise looks lovingly at her mother, Mrs. Francis Darman of Glenwood. The baby is only a year old so she has no realization that if it weren't for an X-ray taken of her mother a year ago and speedy action of surgeons she might have been motherless on Mother's Day. Bugs Bunnys To Bing Crosbys Costumed For Players Dance

It was an unlikely cast of characters which assembled at the Southern Marin Recreation Center for the Cove Players dance Saturday Night. "Night in Filmland" was the theme, guests were asked to come as their favorite movie actor and everybody from Rudolph Valentino to Bugs Bunny showed up.

Bill Birzman arrived as Groucho Marx, perfectly made up to resemble the actor. Ginny Purdom was Carmen Miranda complete with the fruit salad atop long black hair and husband Walt as a gaucho type cowboy.

Dr. Eugenia Hayes wore a white sailor suit as Mary Martin while her escort Pete Hawkins came as Douglas Fairbanks Jr. Peg Grieg as Eleanor Powell in a tailcoat, shorts and black mesh hose while husband Randy, as a most casually dressed Bing Crosby, found himself an unpopular dancing partner because of the golf club he was carrying.

Randy emceed the entertainment later in the evening which consisted of a pantomine by Jody White and a performance by "The Whistlers."

A happy pair were Cindy Miller and Esther Montooth, who, although they did not know each other, both came as Mae West, one in black the other white satin. Both dripped rhinestones and feather plumes.

A group who worked together on the Cove Players last production "You Can't Take It With You," all came as The Mouseketeers. Among them were Ann Ehman, Mary Lou Coats, Dwight Lousignaut and the Jim Sullivans.

There's Rejoicing at Darmans And Big Celebration For Mom

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

A tiny piece of film, about two and a half inches square, undoubtedly saved the life of Mrs. Francis Darman. The story begins little more than a year ago when Mrs. Darman went to Marin General Hospital to have her fourth child. The birth of little Denise on Feb. 19, 1959 came as a surprise to the Darman friends as Gertrude, as she is known to them, had not appeared to be expecting another little one.

The birth was a perfectly normal one and at the end of five days Gertrude was ready to leave the hospital with the baby. She was anxious to get back to her home and to her many outside duties. She is organist at St. Raphael's Church and directs the choir. She plays all the music for the church, at weddings and at funerals in addition to the masses. She demonstrates the Thomas organ for Ray Hime and also teaches the organ. Much interested in youth group activities, Gertrude has been a leader in Girl Scouting for years and recently received her 20 year pin.

A Gertrude was about to leave the hospital with little Denise, a nurse asked her if she would like a chest X-ray. This is a regular procedure at the hospital. The camera had been supplied by the Marin County Tuberculosis Association and later the TB association bought additional equipment so the camera could be used as a separate unit in the Emergency Department.

Mrs. Darman said she was in such a hurry to be at home again and she was sure she had no chest trouble so she was about to refuse the X-ray deal when something came over her and she said rather reluctantly, "Well, OK." The X-ray was taken and Gertrude and the baby went home to receive a wonderful welcome from the husband and father, also Francis, 13, a Boy Scout, Jean, 9, a Brownie, and Michele, who is only six and will be a Brownie next year.

A few days went by and then Dr. William McCann, her doctor called to say that a big shadow was shown on the minifilm (70 mm) and that he had already contacted a thoracic surgeon who said that Gertrude should return to the hospital for more extensive X-rays. This she did with the result that an immediate operation was indicated. After Gertrude was operated on she was unconscious for five days. When she was sufficiently recovered she was told that a large tumor on her breast bone which threatened her life had been removed. If it had remained, it would probably have taken her life as it had already pushed several organs out of place. On the eighth day after the operation Gertrude returned home and soon was taking care of her family and extra curricular duties.

That is the reason that the TB Assn. cited Gertrude's case in its annual appeal for the Christmas Seal Sale. It proves that the X-rays which are taken primarily to discover tuberculosis often reveal abnormal conditions. The service is free of charge to the patient and is one of the many the association provides from the sale of Christmas seals.

I was so interested in Gertrude's case, that I interviewed her at her home in Glenwood, where she and her family have lived for two and a half years. Gertrude and her husband grew up in Utica, N.Y. Her father and mother were both Italians and he had his own wholesale and importing firm. Her maiden name was Gertrude Bonomo. She started to play the piano when she was eight years old and later attended Syracuse University and took a full course at the Utica Conservatory of Music. In 1942 Francis and she were married in Utica. World War II was then going on and Francis, an expert toolmaker, served in the ordnance department of the Army. He was stationed in California and was so pleased with it here that after the war was over, he brought Gertrude here. They lived a short time in Greenbrae before they bought the home at 229 Knight Drive in Glenwood. As I was about to leave, who should come creeping into the room but bright eyed, laughing Denise so happy and secure in her mother's love which is assured her because a tiny film showed a picture of danger which threatened.

Dinner Wednesday For Cummins P-TA

One of the first projects scheduled for the newly-elected officers of Neil Cummins P-TA is the annual Dime-A-Dip Dinner. It is to be held in the all purpose room of the school on May 11, from 5 to 7 p.m. There will be a wide variety of main dishes, salads and desserts from which to choose. The proceeds from this dinner will be used to purchase books for the school library. Mrs. William Barck and Mrs. James McClintock are co-chairmen for the affair.

Entertainment will be provided by a group of students under the direction of Mr. Robert Johnson.

Chi Omegas Will Meet On Monday

The annual business and election of officers meeting of the Marin County Chi Omega Alumnae will be held at the home of Mrs. Jorgen Pedersen in Fairfax. The meeting will convene Monday at 10:30 a.m. and will include luncheon and swimming.

New business to be discussed will include plans for an annual spring party which this year will be a barbecue picnic at Silverado Country Club, Napa, on June 4 between 3 and 7 p.m. This event will also be attended by a newly formed group of Chi Omega alumnae in the Napa area under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Jensen, former president of the Marin County group who now resides there.

Other business will include the final disbursement of funds raised by the group for contribution to various community organizations. Financial assistance will be given to the American Field Service, a gift will be selected to give to the Junior Museum to assist them in their educational program and plans to give a television set to the Lucas Valley home will be completed.

All interested Chi Omegas are invited to attend. They may contact Mrs. Leland Young for information.

Five Horseless Carriages To Be Featured In Sunny Hills Show

"Mannequins and Machines," to be presented by Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary on May 21 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross from 5 until 8 p.m., will be a unique car show.

Horseless carriages, classic cars and their modern counterparts will be on display to the public and champagne and a fashion show by a San Francisco firm will be presented.

There will be five horseless carriages on display. A 1906 Rio Runabout owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Phillips of Sausalito will be the oldest car in the show. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bechtel of Sleepy Hollow have loaned their 1910 Chalmers Detroit Touring Car, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pickert of San Rafael have loaned their 1913 Buick Runabout. In contrast, a 1960 Buick will be displayed through the generosity of Stenstrom Buick of San Rafael. A 1915 Model T Touring Car and a 1915 Model T Roadster, the former owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Jones of Kentfield, will be teamed with a 1960 Thunderbird from Ames Ford in San Rafael.

The group of classic cars are all owned by Mr. Robert W. Ford of Ross, and have never before been shown. A 1929 Bentley 8 cylinder racing car with a linen body will be teamed with the 1960 Bentley owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McCormick of Kentfield. Also to be shown will be an 8 cylinder 1938 Bugatti from Paris; a 1934 8 cylinder Alfa-Romeo racing car; a 1938 8 cylinder Mercedes Benz; a 1934 12 cylinder Hispano Suiza racing car built for Prince Rainier's father, and a 1937 12 cylinder Rolls Royce Phantom 3 racer built for the Duke of Kent.

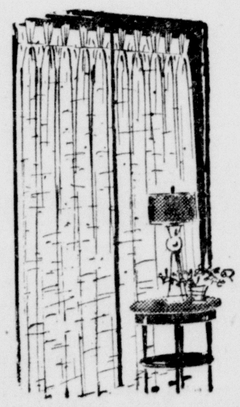

Tickets may be obtained from any auxiliary member or from Mrs. Gregory Sheehan of Greenbrae.

Hal Cox To Host AAUW Music Group

Hal Cox will be host to the AAUW couples music listening group at KAFE-FM in San Francisco, Sunday, May 15, from 7 to 10 p.m.

A no-host dinner will precede the meeting. Persons wishing to attend should call Mrs. Otto Meyer. This is an open meeting for couples and others whether or not members of the group.

The program will cover a period of German and Austrian musical influence, showing its development in Eastern Europe and in Russia. This includes examples of the combination of vocal and orchestral music by Richard Strauss and Mahler.

PACKAGING A school kit to send for CARE are three members of Girl Scout Troop 175 of Sleepy Hollow, from left, Liza Buckley, Kristin Carlsen and Debbie McGarr. On Saturday, May 14, the Troop will stage a fashion show at 2 p.m. at the Sleepy Hollow School. (Independent-Journal photo)

Scout Troop Plans Style Show, May 14

Girl Scout Troop 175 of Sleepy Hollow is presenting a fashion show featuring clothes from a Marin County shop on Saturday, May 14, at 2 p.m., at the Sleepy Hollow School.

The girls will be modeling summer clothes styled for subteens and teens. After the show, refreshments will be served. The fashion show will complete several badge requirements that the troop has been working on this year in order to receive the First Class Rank.

This last requirement is the most important, for with the proceeds of the show, the girls plan to send CARE school kits to needy children in Hong Kong, Vietnam, and India.

Members of the troop, each of whom will model, are Wendy Ammermann, Liza Buckley, Kristin Carlsen, Patty Doyle, Carol Dawson, Janis Ehrhart, Jane Hammond, Susan Herrmann, Lois LeRud, Debbie McGarr, Alisan Mauer, Margaret Mauer, Margaret Nicolai, Vicki Parmeter, Linda Peters, Joanne Salkin, and Virginia Worrall. Adult leaders are Mrs. Clifton McGarr, Mrs. Eugene Buckley, and Mrs. Carl Carlsen. Tickets may be obtained from any of the troop members or the leaders.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) in Petaluma will present a unique Fashion Show with luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio, Friday, May 27, with Paul Speegle, San Francisco columnist, emceeing the show.

Madame Wong of the City of Shanghi, Chinatown, San Francisco, will show her rare, vivid ancient Chinese costumes, authentic Mandarin coats as well as her modern adaptations of Oriental styles and exquisite silks.

San Francisco professional models along with Chinese models will show the ancient robes and modern designs.

This private treasured collection to be shown belongs to the City of Shanghi for exclusive shows only.

Tickets and reservations for this 12:30 p.m. event may be obtained from Mrs. La Donna Leineger, Greenbrae.

Presbyterian Guild To Hear Secretary

Rachel Benfer, Western Area Secretary of the Board of National Missions of United Presbyterian Church in the U.S., will speak to the San Anselmo Women's Guild at 10:30, on Thursday, May 12.

This will be a morning meeting and will be called to order by Mrs. Allen Meadowcroft, president at 10:30. Mrs. Roger Strout will dedicate the summer sewing which will be followed by the summer offering.

Mrs. Richard Kreuzer, chairman, will be assisted by the morning circle in serving the noon luncheon.

Newest Resident

Newest resident of Little Reed Heights is Cynthia Cowan Mitchell who arrived Sunday at Marin General Hospital for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mitchell. Anxious to greet Cindy (as she will be known) when she comes home are 10 year old Kim and 8 year old Scott. Visiting from Buffalo, N.Y., is Cindy's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Howard W. Cowan. Her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Arthur J. Mitchell, lives in San Diego.

Pink, White Decor Planned For Show

Wednesday, May 11th, The Meadow Club in Fairfax will be decorated with gold potted plants with huge pink and white carnations for the "Mademoiselle Marin" fashion and luncheon sponsored by the Junior Social Service Auxiliary of Marin, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Jose Alicastro's committee making decorations are Mesdames Lawrence Fambrini, Frank Walsh, John Reid, William Coyle, A. J. Simonini, George Slevin, William Slocum, William Parnow, John Manzone, James Dondero, Arthur Knudsen and Richard Bettini.

Marin Hostesses Announced For Branson Alumnae Event

Committee members are hard at work adding final touches to the plans for the Katharine Branson School Alumna's annual fund raising event.

May 25th is the date for the afternoon dessert and international fashion lecture to be presented by Mrs. Luis de Herrera on the grounds of the school in Ross at 3 o'clock. Reservations may be purchased from Mrs. Klaus Schmidt.

Chairman of this year's scholarship fund raising day is Mrs. Allan Sproul, Jr. of San Anselmo. The parent's association is assisting the alumnae with Mrs. Newton Longfellow of San Anselmo, a parent and alumni member, as chairman of hostesses.

Marin County hostesses will include Janet Allen, Nan Belden, Chrissie Burns, Diane Dimpfl, Joan Dinkelspiel, Barbara Hayes, Lilia Johnson, Anne Macey, Peggy Noyes, Nancy Ritter, and Elizabeth Solinsky from Kentfield. From San Anselmo, the Misses Nina Ashely, Sara Malone, Nancy Milliken, and Laurue Reed; San Rafael, Misses Penny Livermore, Kris Metcalfe, Margaret Soroloff, Linda Speh, and Carolyn Tuttle.

Girls from Southern Marin who will assist include Miss Lola Behr of Mill Valley, and Miss Inga Newbeck of Sausalito. Misses Marita Marley of Novato, and Meg Mery of Inverness will also serve.

Girls from Ross include Lynn Carey, Jan Gilman, Sue Ann Jeffries, Jane Kirkpatrick, Marion Polland and Anne Stine.

CDA Conclave To Be Held May 12-15

The 19th Biennial State Convention of The Catholic Daughters of America, of California, will be held May 12-15 at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco. Officers and members of Court Our Lady of Charity, Napa, Miss Maxine Oellian, Grand Regent, will be hostesses of the conclave with Mrs. N. Gregory Kardy, general chairman, and Mrs. Goff Elder, co-chairman.

Mrs. Edwin A. Clancy of Alameda, State Regent, has issued "The Call" to the 129 Courts in the state who will send delegates representing more than 16,000 women affiliated with the largest Catholic women's organization in America.

Members will assemble for the opening general session May 12, at 8:30 p.m. at a formal reception for state and national officers. National leader from Chevy Chase, Maryland, Miss Margaret J. Buckley, vice supreme regent, will be the honored guest. Mrs. Clancy will introduce Mrs. Patrick Lewis of Los Angeles, national director and a past state regent

Friday, May 13, delegates will attend Mass and Holy Communion at Old St. Mary's Church, in Chinatown, with Reverend John F. Carvlin, C.S.P., pastor, as celebrant.

Breakfast will be served at the Mark Hopkins. Mrs. Albert L. Fox, Fairfax, state chairman of World Missions, will make her report the opening day.

Friday's luncheon in the Peacock Court will honor Miss Margaret J. Buckley, vice supreme regent, and acting supreme regent for the Catholic Daughters of America.

A highlight of the convention will be the report on the first Catholic Daughters of America Home planned for California. Mrs. Alexander A. Caprine, Glendale, president of the Home Board, Inc., recently disclosed purchase of a 10 ocre site in the new Bel Aire Estates at Salinas. Master plan for the buildings which will accommodate 200 women will be on display in the exhibit room.

Saturday, May 14, will open with a Memorial Mass for deceased members, at Old St. Mary's Church, with state chaplain, Reverend John J. Cunningham, M.A., the celebrant.

General business sessions will convene at 10 a.m. in the Peacock Court.

A New Coffee Service Started At Marin General

A new coffee service has been started at Marin General Hospital to relieve staffing in the Dietary Department and to give quicker, better service to patients.

A coffee cart leaves the Dietary Department at 10 a.m. and rotates through the hospital until 11 a.m. In the afternoon, this same service is given between the hours of 2 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. In the evenings, the service is provided between the hours of 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Among those who are staffing to cover the three patient floors are: Mesdames Ray Hoffman, D. H. Hudelson, George Ingram, Aaron Jacobson, Ira Johnson, Lee Marriott, Kenneth Maxwell, Robert Paganini, Erik Rettig, and Leo Shapiro.

Also proffering this hospitality service are: Mesdames Dick Stewart, Edward Ward, James K. Wasley, William O. Weissich, B. J. Whitlow, Hans Fischel, F. J. Grace, Ward Hawking, Geoffrey Capell, and John M. Carr.

Others who will regularly serve on this new project for the hospital Volunteers are: Mesdames Alfred Comstock, George Darnell, James W. Dawson, David Edwards, Muirison K. Taylor, and Patricia Thomas; also Miss Jo Anne Thomas.

An interesting sidelight of how Marin General Hospital recruits Volunteers from all over is the service for this new project given by Miss Janet Smith, stewardess for the Overseas National Airlines. She volunteers her free time when she is between runs to the Orient.

Homestead Club Pot Luck Dinner

Homestead Valley's Improvement Club will feature a "Spring in the Redwoods" theme for its annual pot luck dinner tomorrow at 7:30 in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Col. Frank Canlett will be master of ceremonies for a program of local talent that will include quartet singing, dancing, recorder, zither and guitar numbers, and group singing led by program chairman Chris Bratt.

A contribution of food will be the admission "charge."

Madrigal Singers To Give Recital

The Madrigal Singers of Dominican College in San Rafael, under the direction of Winifred Baker, will present a recital for the Marin Chapter of the American Association of University Women on Wednesday, May 11, at 8:15 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Malcolm Finley of 280 Margarita Drive, Country Club, San Rafael.

The program will include Elizabethan Madrigals and contemporary choral works by Bartok and Vaughn Williams.

Grim Picture Of Africa Painted By San Rafael Club's Speaker

Dr. Tom Lantos, an authority on world affairs, speaking at the San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday on the subject "Africa Awakens" laid the background for his talk by saying Africa is the second largest continent in the world and has 220 million people and is really three countries in one, North Africa, which is Mediterranean in its culture, the southern tip, (the Union of South Africa) and the broad belt south of the Sahara where the slave trade flourished and many of the natives still live in the trees.

Dr. Lantos took an extremely pessimistic view of the situation in South Africa, speaking of the incredible poverty which exists, the brutality of the white people to the natives and the great barrier of the color line. Saying that the native Africans identify Christianity with colonization, the speaker stated that the Moslems are increasingly growing in number.

Dr. Lantos said that where the European population in Africa is comparatively small there are relatively good relations between the white and the black people.

The speaker said he foresees the bloodiest chapter in South Africa now beginning. He stated there is a "great reservoir of good will in Black Africa for the United States." He warned also "we are living in a fish bowl and our race relations are greatly publicized" and said that incidents such as that at Little Rock put this country in an unfavorable light.

Explaining that the Africans have no sense of national solidarity, Dr. Lantos said there is great loyalty to their tribes. "There is a great gap between the European-educated African and his brother at home." He stated, "It is hard to find responsible leadership" and that strong leaders are needed in Africa. He said there is always the danger that these leaders will become dictators.

The only solution to the African problem Dr. Lantos said, lies in sending highly intelligent and educated American Negroes to Africa to give economic and technical assistance. He said this would be the most effective way to combat the spread of Communism. He praised the State Department for its protest on the situation in South Africa and said, "We must support the legitimate aspirations of Africa for self determination."

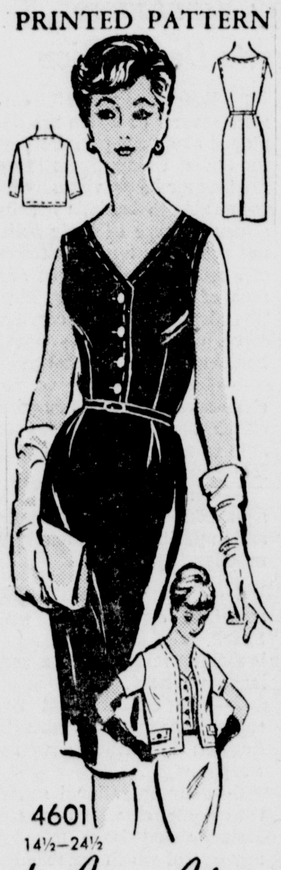

In his reference to the United States living in a fish bowl Dr. Lantos spoke of the mass demonstrations in Cuba and in East Germany against the execution of Caryl Chessman and said, "They had the arrogance to criticize American justice" and he pointed out that in Cuba, Castro had wiped out scores of his countrymen with an execution squad and that in East Germany the gas chambers had been filled with innocent victims of racial prejudice.

Following Dr. Lantos' talk, Mrs. Roy A. Brown, announced the series of lectures being given by Dr. J. Hudson Ballard, theologian and psychologist, on Wednesday nights at Westminster Presbyterian Church of Richardson Bay.

Dr. Lantos was introduced by Mrs. Sydney Frank, second vice president. Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp, president, welcomed members and guests and announced plans for the fund raising May Party Days. Luncheons and card parties will be held in homes of members for two days under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Leiton Elder and Mrs. Cletus Fitzharris. On May 17, home opened will be those of Mrs. Clinton Duffy in Greenbrae, Mrs. Samuel W. Kramer and Mrs. Wilbur C. Lowe, Fairhills and Mrs. Louis L. Robinson, San Rafael. On May 18 parties will be given at the homes of Mrs. Lawrence A. Cowen and Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister, San Rafael, and Mrs. John MacPhail and Mrs. Carl K. Schieck, Loch Lomond.

Following the program and announcements, tea was served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Newgard. Assisting her were Mesdames Victor Cole, Alex Bovee, Peter Andersen and Sanford McLaughlin. Pouring were Mesdames Harold Geister, Donald Murray, C. D. Owen and Charles Howell. Mrs. J. R. Stickle arranged the tea table and stage decorations.

North Bay Aqueduct Meet Got Project Off Dead Center

Last weekend's meeting and decisions on the North Bay Aqueduct come as a distinct relief after a year or so of inaction.

For the first time that we can remember, the legislators, supervisors and representatives of the four counties involved united together behind the project. As far as we know, this was an unplanned unanimity which sprang from a sudden fear that the State Department of Water Resources might be considering abandoning the project.

For years we have heard the oft-stated belief of department officials that there is no basic support for the project.

They certainly found out differently at this meeting. As speaker from county after county got behind the project and criticized the department's do-nothing attitude, the acting chairman squirmed in his chair. When water director Harvey O. Banks arrived late, the acting chairman declared he was "more than happy to turn the meeting over to Mr. Banks."

The results of the meeting also were productive. Banks promised that his department would start spending the million dollars which Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy had inserted in the state budget a year ago, to purchase rights of way for the aqueduct.

At the same time the department will start a re-study and re-design of the entire project in light of "recent developments."

The recent developments to which the department referred originally included the decision of the North Marin Water District to buy water from the Russian River. With this in mind, the department said it was "interested in" perhaps reducing the size of the project or not extending it as far as Marin County.

By the time the meeting was over and they had witnessed such overwhelming backing for the project, the officials were talking about possibly increasing the size of the 60-mile canal.

In any event, the meeting had the effect of getting the aqueduct project off dead center. Banks and his department are to be commended for calling it and urged to heed what they heard there.

Masked Bandits Operate Here

A family of masked bandits lives and operates in Marin. They usually strike in the dead of night and the sheriff is seemingly powerless to quell their activities. The authorities know their name to be Procyon.

They have enlisted the support of a certain segment of our population which is willing to shield them. No matter how many jobs they pull each night, some of this group defends them. Their main enemies appear to be those families into whose home the Procyons have moved without so much as a by-your-leave. The latter complain of the Procyon's untidy habits and nightly parties.

Probably this family is better known by its common alias—Raccoons. It goes on a rumble every night and knocks over dozens of garbage cans. It is a fish pond vandal and a chicken house thief.

Their friends claim hunger and poverty as the mitigating circumstance. The trouble is evidently environmental because a young Procyon, removed from his parents at a tender age becomes a much loved member of a normal household.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

MUCH TROUBLE IN SHORT TIME

In a five minute auto chase by Oakland, Calif., police, a motorist accumulated charges that covered 27 pages in the code book.

The violations included: six for speeding; five for ignoring red lights; four for improper signaling; three for reckless driving, the wrong way on a one way street; two for entering a one-way street from the wrong direction; one for ignoring a red light and siren; one for running through a boulevard stop; one for evading arrest; and one for a mechanical defect on his car.

One thing quickly leads to another when a person sets out on a mission of either good or evil. The sense of urgency that impels him—in the right direction or the wrong—can quickly produce widspread effects for better or worse.

You can accomplish great good—and avoid much trouble if you are sparked by a divine compulsion to make the most of your brief stay on the stage of life.

"He who has persevered to the end will be saved." (Matthew 10:22)

Instill in us, O divine Savior, a sense of urgency in working for the good of others.

Some Sayings, Wise Or Otherwise, About The Indispensable Woman

NEW YORK (AP) — Mother is queen for a day Sunday.

In a world of dispensable men, she remains the indispensable woman.

The role of motherhood has fascinated the sages and scientists of the ages, and they have had many wise and witty — and sometimes snide — things to say about it.

Such as:

"He is bare of news who speaks ill of his mother" — Irish proverb.

"God could not be everywhere, so he made mothers" — Yiddish proverb.

"Despise not thy mother when she is old" — Old Testament.

"Mother knows best" — Edna Ferber.

"The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world"—W. R. Wallace.

"You may deduct $600 for the support of a dependent mother"—U. S. Internal Revenue Service.

"The mother's heart is the child's schoolroom" — Henry Ward Beecher.

"No bones are ever broken by a mother's beating"—Russian proverb.

"A spoilt child never loves its mother" — Henry Taylor.

"It was a great fight, Ma. I'll be right home" — any U.S. boxer.

"The female of one of the emus, as soon as she catches sight of her progeny, becomes violently agitated, and, notwithstanding the resistance of the father, appears to use her utmost endeavors to destroy them" — Charles Darwin.

"Get up from your knees, Mother — the crap game's over" — Fred Allen.

"A father is proud of those sons who have merit, and puts the rest lower. But a mother, though she is proud too of the former, cherishes the latter"—Confucius.

"Men are what their mothers make them" — Ralph Waldo Emerson.

"The angels singing unto one another, can find among their burning terms of love, none so devotional as that of 'Mother'" — Edgar Allen Poe.

"Youth fades; love droops; the leaves of friendship falls. A mother's secret love outlives them all" — Oliver Wendell Holmes.

"Her children arise and call for her blessed" — Old Testament.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

What We Learned From Chessman

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Caryl Chessman is dead. He was charged with sexually assaulting someone, but that's not why he's dead. In California we don't kill people for sex crimes.

Caryl Chessman is dead because before assaulting someone he moved her a hundred feet or a hundred yards.

The exact distance is unimportant. The point seems to be that since the death penalty is a great deterrent, we have all learned to rape 'em where we find 'em.

Pt. Lobos Being Preserved For All

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

One of your readers sent me the editorial page of your Thursday, April 21, edition. He suggested that I write to you in order to clarify the impressions your readers would derive from Magda Cregg's remarks about Point Lobos.

Point Lobos Reserve is an area of great natural beauty, set aside for the people to enjoy. If it had been left in the hands of developers to determine the destiny of Point Lobos, it probably would have long ago been subdivided, and the unique Monterey Cypress with some of the finest rock and surf scenery in California would have been lost forever.

Point Lobos Reserve is a small area of only 365 acres, and because of its unique qualities of flora and associated vegetative types, its typical fauna and interesting geology; it was determined that it could best serve the people as a natural area.

Here people can hike over trails to view, photograph or paint the natural scene. Fishing is permitted with hook and line in designated areas where it is safe for the fishermen and not detrimental to the natural growth. Picnic facilities exist where cold lunches may be enjoyed by the visitor.

Other facilities includes water, restrooms and parking areas, all for the convenience of the visiting public.

In order to assure the preservation of this area, certain regulations are necessary. Visitors are asked to smoke in their cars or on the beaches because of the great fire hazard that exists during much of the year. Collecting is not permitted so that subsequent visitors to Pt. Lobos will enjoy the same opportunity, as those who have preceded them, of examining unusual rocks, shells, driftwood shapes and tidepool animals.

Our purpose is to preserve Point Lobos for its esthetic and scientific values for all generations present and future. We feel that no one generation has the right to use up a park, but that it is the current generation's responsibility to save something for future generations to benefit by. Our regulations, we feel, are necessary to carry out this responsibility. It is our sincere hope that people will continue to understand why we regulate certain activities at Point Lobos and from our contacts with visitors we believe they will.

Police Showed Lack Of Thought

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

. . . I was a part of an incident at the Sandspit in Sausalito Thursday night, April 21, 1960. A very orderly and intelligent meeting preceded the incident when some citizens had met to discuss what they could do to promote one of their beliefs — the abolishment of capital punishment. One of the things this group decided to do to dramatize the promotion of this belief was to light a fire signifying LIFE. This fire was to be ignited preceding the impending execution of Caryl Chessman, but not before notifying and obtaining permission from the proper authorities. However, for the benefit of the press present on April 21, 1960, it was suggested that a small temporary fire of about 5 minutes duration at a location which would not peril the public safety would not be harmful. This was immediately stopped by "Sausalito's finest." Unfortunately, in stopping this, they were belligerant and impolite.

When an individual is seemingly without cause bullied into submission a reaction usually follows. In this case, the reaction was that someone lit the fire anyway. To amplify, I feel that had the police originally displayed a bit of empathy while still firmly carrying out their duties, the people would not have allowed the fire to be started. As the incident gained impetus, the word was passed by the police (not announced, but passed around and therefore unknown to many people) that no one was to leave the area, thus adding a flair of forceful, TV-like show of superiority. At this point, some people attempted to leave and were bodily restricted — an act which is still a puzzle since everyone was allowed to leave within a few minutes anyway. One of the men squirmed loose from his restriction and one of the policemen REACHED FOR HIS GUN. He reconsidered upon being confronted with the words, "Yes, please shoot me!" This gross act on the part of the officer signifies the submerged values of too many of our law enforcement men, for had this been an unruly mob engaged in some violent law-breaking act his course might have had justification but automatically reaching for a weapon was hardly called for in this instance.

If this thinking or more appropriately lack of thinking is allowed to govern the minds of our law enforcement men, it poses a threat to our entire civilization. I wonder if we will stand and watch our towns and villages become police ghettos as freedom and thought progress beyond them or I wonder if we will act.

Supervisors Discussing Possibility Of Making Raises Equitable

Throughout the current discussion on the proposed county budget the supervisors have been taking time out to talk between the lines, as it were.

This week as a new staff member was proposed for one of the county departments, the members of the board took time out to consider the county salary structure.

AT PRESENT raises are granted regularly, according to the anniversary date of employment. A person is hired for a certain job (i.e. clerk-typist), and the salary schedule calls for that salary to be a certain amount, or within a certain range in the schedule. All these ranges have numbers and are referred to when the supervisors throughout the year give perfunctory approval to raises.

Raises are granted according to a thing call step increases. There are five within each range. When a person has been granted the top step increase within his or her range that is the end of it, unless a department head recommends an additional raise because of exceptionally good service.

Usually, however, it doesn't work that way. That person may be advanced to another range (i.e., intermediate clerk-typist). Or that person may be advanced prior to the time of having gone through all step increases, probably because a vacancy occurs.

BECAUSE ANNIVERSARY dates fall at different times during the year, the proposal was made at a board meeting that the system be changed so that all increases be considered at one time during the year.

If the system were changed to another date, say the time of the adoption of the budget everyone would get a raise at the same time, and the periodic consideration by the board and the resulting confusion and paper work would be eliminated.

However, at the time such a system were adopted, there would be a moratorium on raises.

IF IT WOULD be the purpose of changing the system only to make the "board's bookkeeping" simpler, it would appear to be fairer if a more equitable system could be worked out. Perhaps the raises of those who would have to wait could be prorated in some way so the net result would mean they would not lose promised wages.

It was not the purpose of the proposal to cut down on salaries merely for the purpose of cutting county expenditures. The proposal took into consideration that county wages have to be maintained on a level that will keep persons on their jobs and not subject to "raiding" by competition.

THE PURPOSE, in addition to "keeping books better in order," apparently would include not only keeping a closer watch by the supervisors on the persons who are getting the raises — BUT to see how they fall IN RELATION to others in their departments and to other county employees.

While the present periodic raise-granting system always takes into consideration the name, rank and serial number of the person involved, there isn't an efficient method of treating the raises against the whole roster of employees.

U.S. Not Perilously Vulnerable Unless Enemy Wants Destruction

WASHINGTON — The Administration has expounded its defense program so badly and its critics have attacked it so persistently that many Americans may be led to believe that the U. S. is perilously vulnerable.

We aren't — unless an enemy wants to take massive destruction in reply.

An earlier column pointed out that while it may be militarily sound for the Soviets to rely primarily on the intercontinental missile because they have no overseas bases, it is militarily sound for the U.S. at this stage to rely primarily on the manned bomber. One reason is that we do have overseas bases from which bombers and intermediate missiles can be used.

I AM NOT arguing that we couldn't or shouldn't strengthen our military posture. My own conviction is that our greatest danger is from limited, non-nuclear aggression and that our greatest weakness is in our lack of limited war non-nuclear capacity.

But what I want to report in this column is that, as far as all-out war is concerned, there is no deterrent gap in American military strength today. If we keep it that way, we're all right.

Here is a rounded picture of what the experts call the "mix" of our deterrent power.

THE STRATEGIC striking forces of the United States are these:

1—More than 2,000 long-range strategic bombers — greatly outnumbering Soviet aircraft of comparable capability. This force is highly trained, completely equipped, and ready and maintained in varying stages of alert, including a large number on fifteen-minute ground alert and a small number actually airborne at all times. Each of these bombers can deliver the destructive potential of several ICBMs.

2—Two wings of tactical bombers each with nuclear capability, deployed on many bases strategically located in advanced positions around the world.

3—Fourteen aircraft carriers several of which are deployed about the periphery of the Soviet Union. From these floating air bases, virtually invulnerable to ballistic missile attack because of their shifting positions, nuclear strikes can be made into almost any area of the Communist bloc. The aircraft in these carriers alone outnumber the heavy bombers in the Soviet Union.

4—Fourteen wings of nuclear-capable fighter bombers, either deployed overseas or able to move there in a very few hours.

5—An operational ICBM squadron — trained, equipped and in position to launch Atlas missiles.

6 — AN OPERATIONAL squadron equipped with Snark, a 5,500-mile, air-breathing missile with a very large warhead.

7—Two cruisers and five submarines equipped with the Regulus I, surface-to-surface weapon.

8—Four operational squadrons equipped with a mix of Matador and Mace missiles, any one of which exceeds the total explosive power expended against all Axis military targets in Europe during World War II.

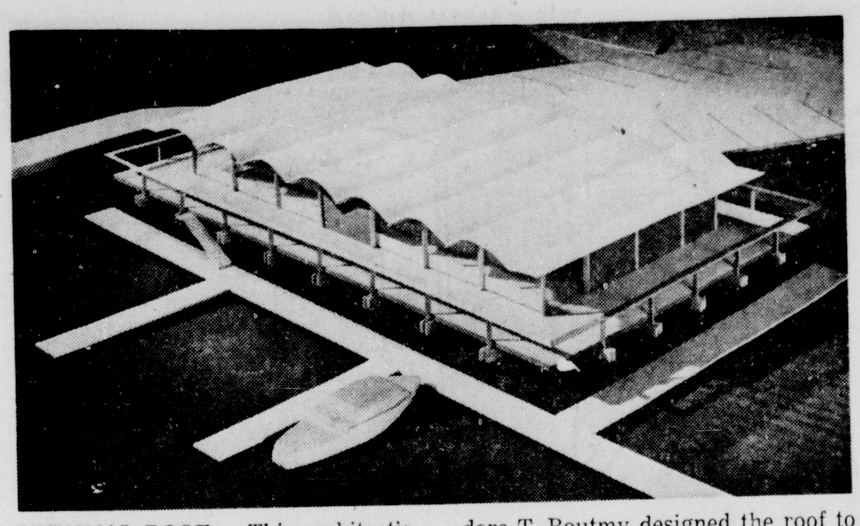

9—Sixty intermediate range ballistic missiles — the Thor — in the hands of the Allied forces in the United Kingdom.

All of this, it seems to me, spells superiority over Soviet striking power today.

UNUSUAL ROOF — This architect's model of the new Sausalito Yacht Club shows unusual roof design of seven "barrel vaults." Architect Theodore T. Boutmy designed the roof to be "pretty to look at" from Sausalito hillsides, and the curves to avoid direct reflection of the sun's rays.

New Club Rising For Sausalito Yachtsmen

A five-year fund drive aided by a little personal perspiration will see the 180 members of the Sausalito Yacht Club move into a smart new $62,000 home in July.

Construction of the $35,000 main clubhouse is underway by contractor H. D. Grae of San Francisco. The site is on the Sausalito sandspit, north and east of the Trade Fair ferryboat.

Commodore F. P. Fromhagen of San Rafael estimates the clubhouse will be ready for occupancy on July 1.

Starting in 1942 with 17 charter members, the Sausalito Yacht Club at one time occupied as headquarters the old steam schooner Santa Barbara, then rented a clubhouse in the vicinity and began the drive for the new clubhouse in 1955.

Club members volunteered labor, drove the piles and constructed the decking. An architect, Theodore T. Boutmy of San Francisco, was hired and came up with a 3,000 square foot clubhouse, including bar, lounge, showers, locker room, storage area and kitchen.

Boutmy, conscious of the view Sausalito's "hill people" have of the waterfront, has designed an unusual roof of seven barrel vaulets, each 56 feet long, built of laminated plywood. They will be trucked to site and erected in a few days.

Twenty parking spaces have been provided along with both land and sea access.

Domestic Spats Unavoidable, But Handle Them With Commonsense

Ever argue with your spouse? Of course. You have tempers, get into spats once in a while, don't you?

How do you handle your quarrels? It takes more than romance to make a good marriage. It takes devotion, and commonsense.

When you are mad I hope you don't try to out-yell each other. That entertains the neighbors. It doesn't help you.

I hope you don't get stubborn and refuse to listen to reason. That just prolongs the agony.

Formerly fathers were bosses in their homes. They made the decisions. Their wives gave in, and didn't mind too much.

Now things are different. Most fathers are away many hours a day. They can't supervise the job of raising the children. Mothers make the decisions. Fathers are forced to take the back seat. But they argue a lot about it. Have you noticed?

When you disagree, try to compromise. It is a sign of strength to be able to do that. Remind yourselves that you aren't children. Try to look at all angles of the problem. Remember you love each other.

Patch up the quarrels as quickly as you can.

Your marriage is based on love. Your best motive is your desire to help each other, not to compete with each other. If your children are around, harmony is all the more important. Your spats hurt them more than they do you.

So don't let your arguments get too big. You'll have them, but you can handle them.

Poll Finds Those Who Know Schools Best Are Boosters

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The closer you are to a school, the better you like what schools are doing.

Research consultant Donald Kase of Mill Valley reported this at a meeting of the Mill Valley School District board this week in his analysis of a 1959 opinion poll conducted by the Mill Valley Advisory Education Council.

The council is a group which is interested in schools from a community standpoint, and in the past has made studies of the local school system, with reports and recommendations going to the board of trustees.

In Mill Valley, Kase found, there are four groups of people each looking at schools from a different viewpoint. The groups, he said, are defined by educational level, occupation, parent status and voting tendency.

Each group, Kase said, has its own particular interest in school affairs. The board should try to recognize these groups and disseminate information about the schools that will catch their group interests, he suggested.

Kase found that, although the "national education emergency" probably has had some hysterical components, it influences individual opinion less than does the indvidual's association with the school — his "psychological distance."

This distance, Kase said, is measured: (1) by degree of direct contact, such as parents of children attending schools, and (2) a degree of indirect contact—this is, the amount of education a person has.

In general, Kase found in the analysis (which was made at a cost of $500 to the district) that with certain exceptions the current school program has a clear endorsement by Mill Valley voters.

However, opinions regarding specific questions vary considerably.

The consultant said those persons who said they usually oppose bond issues are more critical of the school program than are those who indicate they favor passage of bond issues.

He said there seems to be some question as to how those who are not close to schools arrive at their opinions. He suggested these might be influenced by "national hysteria."

Kase said an "intensive community information program "should be undertaken to help the community to become aware of what the schools are doing, as well as the school's many problems—with special reference to budgetary matters.

An analysis of comments on the questionnaires was made by Mrs. William Gavin of Mill Valley, 1959 chairman of the council. She found that although many persons recognize inequities in the present system of financial support for schools, few offered any suggestions for modifying the system.

Kase recommended that this analysis be repeated within three years.

He said parents of school-age children clearly endorse the current school program with respect to the slow learner, classroom discipline, school construction costs and the addition of new classrooms to meet expanding enrollment.

A majority of those who do not have childen in the public schools do not endorse these elements, he said. Those without children are overwhelming in their opinion that children are not required to work hard enough.

Those with more education are inclined to feel that schools do not offer enough challenge, said Kase. This group feels children spend too much time in ontside activities, teachers are not paid enough, grading should be based on both individual achievement and class standing, and too much is spent for school buildings.

Opinions were gathered from 444 persons. About half of them wrote comments on the survey.

Earl Reinke, who worked on the poll throughout, suggested a thorough examination of school policies to determine which should be changed.

Mrs. Martin Rosse, president of the board, said the analysis and survey will be used in policy making, long-range planning, and strengthening oft he curriculum and school-community relations.

San Anselmo Man Ends Navy Course

Lt. John A. Ungersma of San Anselmo recently completed specialized training in aviation medicine at the Naval Aviation Medical Center at Pensacola, Fla.

The courses also included training in naval aircraft. During it, Lieutenant Ungersma soloed in a T34.

The lieutenant is to sail Tuesday for Okinawa, accompanied by his wife, Marilyn, and daughters, Rayna and Vicki. There he will be assigned to the Marine Corps Air Facility.

Lieutenant Ungersma is a son of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Ungersma of 36 Vineyard avenue, San Anselmo.

Vehicle Unit Aides Deny Blame For Unlicensed Drivers

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State motor vehicle officials are getting tired of being blamed for the number of motorists who drive without licenses.

Their displeasure came out yesterday at the close of a four-day conference conducted by the American Assn. of Motor Vehicle Administrators, Western Region.

While admitting that there are many drivers on the road without licenses or with suspended licenses, Ronald V. Thunen, assistant chief of California's Division of Drivers Licenses, pointed out that "The Department of Motor Vehicles of this or any other state has no control over drivers until they have been arrested and convicted of a traffic law violation."

About 200 delegates agreed. They passed a resolution urging local law enforcement agencies to crack down on unlicensed drivers.

Commission To Meet

The Belvedere Recreation Commission will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the community hall to review the city's street and lane abandonment proposal, now before the city council, according to commission chairman E. Allan Steinau Jr.

Candidates To Address Tiburon Meet

The two candidates for the Southern Marin seat on the county board of supervisors, Mrs. Vera Schultz and J. Walter Blair, will outline their platforms at next Tuesday's noon luncheon meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, according to president Robert A. Sterling.

The meeting will be held in the Luau Room of Tommy's Pier 41 restaurant on Tiburon's Main street.

Sterling said chamber members may question the candidates following their presentation.

A short business meeting will precede the program. Sterling said members will discuss sponsorship of a peninsula-wide "town hall" meeting of the two candidates later this month.

Airline Changes Mind About Moving To S.F.

The firm said it ran into technical difficulties in acquiring part of Pan American Airways' former maintenance base in San Francisco.

Elderly Persons To Get Lessons In How To Walk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Persons of 60 or over are going to get walking lessons here May 20.

The idea is this:

Persons in that age group comprise only 9.6 per cent of San Francisco's population but they account for 38 per cent of pedestrians killed by automobiles.

The San Francisco Senior Center, an agency of the United Community Fund, has set up a safety program for May 20 and expects around 2,000.

Designers throughout the United States and Europe have been written for ideas on what types of garments are more visible at night. The idea is to switch these pedestrians away from dark colors.

The oldsters will get carefully prepared data on car-stopping distances and light signals, hear words of advice from top police officials and view safety movies.

Tam Swimming Off

There will be no instructional or recreational swimming at Tamalpais High School tomorrow because of the Marin County Athletic League track and field relays and the league's swimming meet, according to Charles Crawford, recreation director.

PROBLEMS OVERCOME

Pay TV Off To Good Beginning In Canada

By MAX HARRELSON

TORONTO (AP)—Canada's pay television experiment seems off to a good start.

It's too early to tell whether the project will prove successful, but several customers and the sponsors say they are happy.

The operation began two months ago with installations in 1,000 homes in Etobicoke, a Toronto suburb. The system now includes 2,500 homes, with about 300 more each week. The aim is 10,000-12,000 by the end of the year.

The project, called Trans Canada Telemeter, has overcome many of the difficulties which beset other pay TV plans.

Installation is simple. The customer pays $5 to connect to the service. Then he drops coins in the slots whenever he wants to watch a first-run film, a hockey game or some other program.

Henry Griffing, U.S. theater owner who experimented with pay TV in Bartlesville, Okla., in 1957, calls the Etobicoke system the greatest innovation since talking pictures.

"I'm convinced," he said, "that Telemeter completely solves all the problems I encountered in Bartlesville."

This system was developed by Paramount Pictures in experiments going back to 1951. Trans Canada Telemeter is owned by a Paramount subsidiary, Famous Players Canadian Corp., Canada's biggest distributor of movies.

Eugene E. Fitzgibbons, director of TV activities for Famous Players, says: "We are delighted with the way things have gone so far, but it may take a year of study before we know the full results."

The main unanswered question is whether customers will pay enough to make the project yield a profit.

Telemeter officials say the intake must amount to about $2 a week for each participant. This is needed to pay for the initial investment of the company in the intricate coin boxes, the trunk cables and the operations center as well as day-to-day operating costs.

Fitzgibbons says he can't draw any conclusions until they get installations in 5,000 or 6,000 homes and pick up the coin boxes at least two or three times.

This correspondent checked at a number of homes. In every case the subscriber said he was satisfied and that he probably will spend $2 a week on a telemeter.

W. E. Foster, with telemeter for four weeks, had seen three or four movies and four hockey games.

"It's good if you use it within reason," he said.

Mrs. J. C. Dennison said she watched films every weekend and had seen all four hockey games carried by Telemeter.

Mrs. W. Croft said: "We like to go to the movies, but it's difficult to get out when you have two school age kids and there's always the cost of a baby-sitter."

Telemeter's operations chief, William Crampton, cites two main reasons for picking Etobicoke as a pilot area. Almost everybody in the upper middle class suburb has a TV set and can afford to pay for television viewing if it is made attractive enough.

Second, it is a good testing area since viewers have the widest choice of free TV in Canada—three Buffalo, N.Y., stations carrying U.S. networks, a Toronto station of Canadian Broadcasting Corp. and a privately owned station in Hamilton, Ont.

It is only a 10-minute operation to hook up the coin box and outside wire at a home. The one wire offers three channels in addition to those already available on free TV.

Two of the pay channels are devoted to first-run movies and operate only in the evening. The cost of seeing a movie is $1, though some children's weekend matinees cost 25 cents.

The third channel is available for sports, including hockey, fights, baseball and other events not shown on free TV. It also is used for showing "adult" films late at night. Telemeter officials hope to make available other pay programs on this channel, including Broadway plays and concerts.

The channel now operates free during the day, carrying mainly music and public service programs, such as panel discussions, neighborhood events and religious services.

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK — Your Marin Magazine will mark the Mother's Day weekend tomorrow with a profile article on a Marin mother of seven. She is Mrs. John F. (Jack) McCarthy of San Rafael. Wife of this district's state senator, active in the theater, arts, gardening and a number of other interests. But, first and foremost, she is a good mother. You will read about Mrs. McCarthy and her family in tomorrow's Marin Magazine in a special article written by Patricia Zinn of the Independent-Journal staff.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

GORILLA GREETERS

Zoo, peer out of their traveling box to look over their future home. A Berlin clothing manufacturer put up money for one gorilla but the suppliers insisted this pair couldn't be separated—so the zoo paid for the other. Their names are Kiri, left, and Djamus, right. That big fellow sitting atop the box is Knorke, a zoo resident brought over to help out with the welcome. (AP Wirephoto)

Brando Wins More Visits With Child

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Marlon Brando won liberalized rights to see his 2-year-old son despite his ex-wife's declaration that he is an immoral man.

The court acted yesterday after nurse Mrs. Sydney Cracy testified the actor's conduct was:

"That of a loving father. The baby is crazy about him and he seems to be crazy about the baby."

Brando's latest row with his fiery-tempered ex-wife, Anna Kashfi, stemmed from his requests to make up missed visits with the baby, Christian.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN RESOLUTION NO. 6200 RESOLUTION AND ORDER OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION IN THE COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID COUNTY THE QUESTION OF WHETHER OR NOT A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OF SAID COUNTY SHOULD BE INCURRED FOR THE PURPOSE OF ACQUIRING, CONSTRUCTING, COMPLETING AND FURNISHING THE FOLLOWING BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS AT THE SITE OF THE MARIN COUNTY HOSPITAL AND FARM AT LUCAS VALLEY: CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW NURSING HOME AND CUSTODIAL HOME; DECLARING THE AMOUNT OF THE BONDS PROPOSED TO BE ISSUED FOR SUCH PROPOSITION AND THE MAXIMUM RATE OF INTEREST TO BE PAID THEREON; FIXING THE TIME OF SAID ELECTION AND THE MANNER OF HOLDING THE SAME, AND PROVIDING FOR NOTICE THEREOF; AND CONSOLIDATING SAID SPECIAL BOND ELECTION WITH THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA CONSOLIDATED PRESIDENTIAL AND DIRECT PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD ON JUNE 7, 1960.

WHEREAS, in the judgment of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, it is necessary that the funds of said County shall be expended for the purposes hereinafter set forth; and

WHEREAS, there are not sufficient funds in the Treasury of said County available for said purposes and to the amount required therefor, and it is necessary that funds in addition to those on hand in the Treasury of said County be raised by the issuance and sale of bonds of said County, and to than end that a special election be held in accordance with law for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said county the question of whether or not bonds of said County shall be issued and sold for the purposes hereinafter set forth, and that said special election be consolidated with the State of California Consolidated Presidential and Direct Primary Election to be held June 7, 1960, so that the question of the issuance of said bonds may be submitted to the qualified electors of said County at said election as herein provided;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED AND ORDERED by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County at follows:

Section 1. A special County bond election shall be and the same is hereby called to be held and will be held throughout the County of Marin on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1960, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said County the question of incurring a bonded indebtedness of said County for the purpose and in the amount set forth in the following measure, to-wit:

COUNTY QUESTION

COUNTY BOND PROPOSITION, Bonds for County Hospital Improvements. Shall the County of Marin incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal sum of $2,250,000.00 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, completing and furnishing the following building improvements at the site of the Marin County Hospital and Farm at Lucas Valley: construction of a new Nursing Home and Custodial Home?

BONDS YES

BONDS NO

Section 2. (a) This Board of Supervisors does hereby submit to the qualified electors of said County at said special election the said measure for the issuance of said bonds, and hereby designates and refers to said measure in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at said election.

(b) Said special County bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereat received and canvassed, and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided, and in all particulars not prescribed by this resolution and order, said election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the election laws of the State of California and only qualified voters of said County may vote thereat.

(c) Said special County bond election hereby called shall be and is hereby consolidated with the State of California Consolidated Presidential and Direct Primary Election to be held throughout said County on Tuesday, June 7, 1960, all as required by and pursuant to law; and the election precincts, polling places and voting booths shall in every case be the same and there shall be only one set of election officers in each of such precincts. Said election precincts, polling places and officers of election shall be the same as those designated in the notice designating the precincts, polling places and election officers in said county for said Primary Election published or to be published by the County Clerk of said County pursuant to California Elections Code Section 668, to which notice reference is hereby specifically made for a designation of the precincts, polling places and election officers for said special County bond election. The polls at said election shall be open from the hour of seven o'clock A.M. to the hour of seven o'clock P.M. of the same day, at which time said polls will be closed, except as provided in Section 5734 of the Elections Code.

(d) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said Primary Election and said special County bond election hereby consolidated therewith, which, in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon, shall state the measure set forth in Section 1 hereof and that to vote in favor of incurring said bonded indebtedness, mark an (X) after the words "BONDS YES" and to vote against incurring said bonded indebtedness, mark an (X) after the words "BONDS NO."

The returns of said Primary Election and said special County bond election hereby consolidated therewith shall be made out and signed by the election officers and shall be by them deposited with the County Clerk together with the ballots cast at said election, and this Board of Supervisors shall canvass said returns and declare the results of said elections at the times and in the manner provided by law.

Section 3. The amount of bonds proposed to be issued in the event that said measure above set forth shall carry at said election is $2,250,000.00. Said issue of bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six (6%) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually (except that interest for the first year after the date of said bonds may be made payable at the end of said year). Said bonds may be issued and sold in accordance with law, but in no event for less than their par value and accrued interest to date of delivery.

Section 4. Notice of said election shall be given by publication of this Resolution and Order in the Independent Journal (which this Board hereby finds and determines to be a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said County), once a week for at least four (4) weeks prior to the holding of said election. The Clerk of this Board is hereby ordered and directed to cause this Resolution and Order to be so published. No other notice of the election hereby called need be given.

Section 5. This Resolution and Order shall take effect immediately.

The foregoing Resolution and Order was passed and adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California., on Teusday, the 12th day of April, 1960, by the following vote:

AYES: Supervisors William D. Fusselman, Vera L. Schultz, James A. Marshall, Walter Castro
NOES: None
ABSENT: Supervisor William A. Gnoss

Concert Set At Tam High

The spring concert of the Tamalpais High School orchestra and girls' glee club will be presented at 8 p.m. next Friday in the Ruby R. Scott Auditorium on the Mill Valley campus.

The program, directed by orchestra instructor Mrs. Mabel Pittenger and chorus feacher Robert Greenwood, is for the benefit of the Tamalpais High music scholarship, to be announced at commencement exercises.

Vocal soloists will be Lisa Mibach, Judy Adams, Merilee White, Sydney Peterson and Joseph Reade in a special number of Kern's "Show Boat" for voice and orchestra narrated by Stewart Hindley.

Instrumental soloists will be Loren Donaldson, oboe; Robert Wochiler, violin; and Patrick Hurtado, flute. All of the soloists are members of the senior class.

Featured orchestra selection will be Mozart's "Symphony in G Minor."

Tam High Alumni To Hold Reunion

A reunion of Tamalpais High School graduates, sponsored by the classes of 1934 and 1935, will be held at the Meadow Club May 14.

A 7 p.m. cocktail hour, dinner and dancing to tunes of the '30s is planned, with Hugo Rinaldi's orchestra setting the musical mood.

Jules Chourre is general chairman. Planning the decorations is Mrs. Peter Skaer, who said the Meadow Club will be transformed into Tam halls of yesteryear.

Mrs. William R. Davis, 9 Prospect avenue, San Anselmo, is accepting reservations.

Shipping fever losses among cattle in the United States amount to about 25 million dollars annually, reports North Carolina State College.

FILM FARE

'Porgy, Bess' Headed For Hub Screen

By LES DARD

The weekend films at Marin's movie houses:

TAMALPAIS THEATER
George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," first unveiled in 1935, has been given loving treatment in Samuel Goldwyn's Technicolor film version which will open Sunday on the Hub screen.

The cast is flawless: Sidney Poitier as the appealing, yet pathetic Porgy; Dorothy Dandridge as the disdainful tigress Bess, and Sammy Davis Jr. as Sporting Life.

Even those three evergreens — "Summertime," "I Got Plenty of Nuttin" and "Bess, You Is My Woman Now"—are welcome as Charleston's ancient Catfish Row lives again. The actual singers are not credited on the screen, but their voices emerge with true opulence. (For the record, Robert McFerrin sings Porgy, Adele Addison is heard as Bess.)

RAFAEL THEATER
"The Unforgiven" (color, Panavision) is a big western directed by John Huston. It opens Sunday at the San Rafael theater.

Set in the Texas Panhandle in the years shortly after the Civil War, it tells a sometimes epic tale of mystery and romance.

Audrey Hepburn is the key figure. Also in the cast are Burt Lancaster, Audie Murphy, Lillian Gish, Charles Bickford, and Albert Salmi.

NOVATO THEATER
"On the Beach," starring Gregory Peck and Ava Gardner, opens here Sunday.

Time is 1964. The northern hemisphere has been wiped out in an atomic war. Deadly radiation is drifting south. The setting is Australia, where the people have about five months to live.

Peck is a U. S. sub captain. Miss Gardner is a loose-living beauty. Fred Astaire is one of the men who helped build the Bomb. Tony Perkins is a young naval officer.

How each meets the end is the gist of this provocative story.

MOTOR MOVIES
"It Happened to Jane" is a sentimental comedy starring Ernie Kovacks, Doris Day and Jack Lemmon.

Miss Day plays a widow trying to make a living by shipping Maine lobsters. Kovacs is the railroad president whose tight-fisted policies land him in comic battle with Doris.

Lemmon plays the widow's lawyer.

A family film.

LARK THEATER
"Room at the Top," a very adult movie, tells of a young heel's rise from his poverty-stricken beginnings.

This Oscar-loaded film has been held over again in Larkspur.

Laurence Hervey plays the young man superbly. Heather Sears is the breathless victim of his campaign to marry a rich girl. Simone Signoret is his ardent, older but still attractive mistress.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE
Alec Guinness is the star of "The Horse's Mouth (color), a funny film about a brilliant artist whose refusal to compromise his principles leads only to trouble.

It is now showing at the Playbox.

Guinness wrote the script, too, and while his execution of Joyce Cary's best seller is not always on the mark, it's close enough to make the film worthwhile for discriminating audiences.

Brigette Bardot is the star of the co-feature, "Woman Like Satan."

SEQUOIA THEATER
Tennessee Williams' "Suddenly Last Summer," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Katharine Hepburn and Montgomery Clift opens Sunday in Mill Valley.

This "adults only" film adds up to a strange brand of mystery and horror. Among the questions it raises:

What was it that drove Miss Taylor insane?

What is the terrible secret that Miss Hepburn wants cut from the girl's mind by surgery?

The answers are shocking.

MARIN THEATER
A new Alec Guinness film, "Our Man In Havana," is currently on the Sausalito screen.

This excellent CinemaScope yarn offers Alec as a seedy owner of a vacuum cleaner shop in Havana who becomes British spy chief in the Caribbean.

The first-rate supporting cast includes Ernie Kovacs, Noel Coward and Burl Ives.

Estimate: One of the season's better offerings.

FAIRFAX THEATER
"Guns of Timberland" (Technicolor) is the new Alan Ladd western set in Feather River country.

Young Frankie Avalon, a current teen-age singing favorite, also is in the cast, along with Jeanne Crain and Gilbert Roland.

Story deals with logging industry at a time when loggers would move into an area and cut indiscriminately.

Ladd and Roland play logging crew bosses opposed by local ranchers, who are led by Miss Crain.

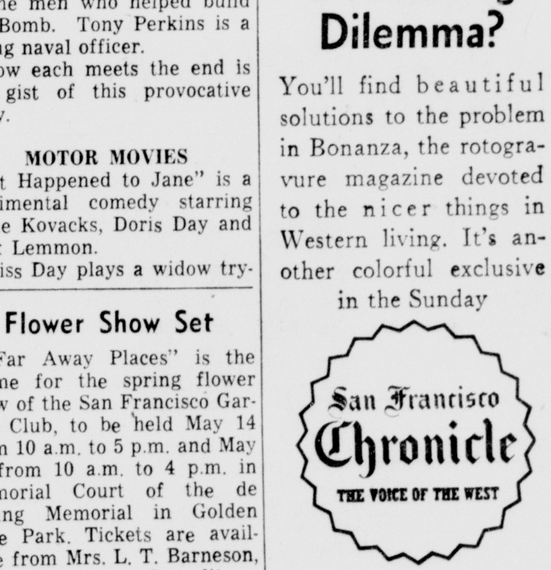

CO-STARS—Co-starring in "The Unforgiven," which opens Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael, are Burt Lancaster and Audrey Hepburn. It's a dramatic western in Tcehnicolor, directed by John Huston.

Flower Show Set

"Far Away Places" is the theme for the spring flower show of the San Francisco Garden Club, to be held May 14 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and May 15 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Memorial Court of the de Young Memorial in Golden Gate Park. Tickets are available from Mrs. L. T. Barneson, 126 Carlos avenue, Sausalito.

THE RACCOON AND THE CAT—These two craft are the latest additions to the Army Corps of Engineers debris-collecting fleet which gathers drift materials on the bay to keep waters free for navigation. Besides the small debris boat Merryfield, lurking in the background, one more such boat completes the debris-collecting fleet. A new wharf is being built in Sausalito to dock the Raccoon and the cat. (Army photo)

Two New Craft Join War On Debris In Bay

Shakedown over, the Raccoon and its companion in debris-collecting, a catamaran without a name, await the completion of a new dock at the Army Engineers' base in Sausalito.

A new wharf, built primarily for the Raccoon and the cat, is to be finished in mid-May.

The 104-ftt Raccoon, a yard salvage derrick, and the twin-hulled craft—added to two tugboats already operating—make up the tiny fleet of vessels used by the Army Engineers to keep the bay clear for navigation.

Both the Raccoon and the catamaran have crews of four. The Raccoon has a four-foot draft and is powered by two 200-horsepower diesels at about eight knots unburdened by the catamaran.

The catamaran is 35 feet, six inches long and 26 feet wide; there is 20 feet of space between the two three-foot hulls. It carries a two-ton 19 by 19 foot steel net susupended from the rear walkway above the surface and from the front walkway about three feet below the surface.

It operates by scooping up a 10-ton load in between the cat's hulls. The loaded net with the derrick is lifted to the foredeck of the Raccoon and a new net is replaced.

The replacing continues continues until all six nets are used, or a 60-ton load of debris has been collected. Then the load is taken to Sausalito to be burned in a large incinerator.

The Raccoon, the catamaran, the Merryfield and the Hanson took part in the recent cleanup of the bay along with privately owned boats.

Let's Get Together

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The six freezers for the new Hale Junior High School cafeteria came with three-prong electrical plugs.

Two electricians arrived the next day. One changed the plugs to two prongs. The other changed the wall receptacles to three prongs.

Board Rejects Request For County Money

Saving money for the taxpayers doesn't come under the heading "Promotion and Development," the Marin County Board of Supervisors ruled yesterday.

The board accordingly, by unanimous vote of 4-0 (with Supervisor William D. Fusselman absent), rejected written request of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. for a $2,500 appropriation for the next fiscal year.

Mrs. Evelyn McDougall, a director of the association, whipped out a letter embodying the request after consideration of the "Promotion and Development" section of the budget had developed that some other private organizations were to receive county money, starting with $500 for the California State Chamber of Commerce.

"Our association opposes subsidizing private dues-paying organizations," said Mrs. McDougall as she produced the letter, which she then read.

The letter said all such requests should be refused, but if anybody were going to get anything the association itself wanted $2,500 "for research into ways and means of lowering taxes without impairing the efficiency of county government," a program which was declared likely to be good for industrial development in Marin County.

"How would the association use this money?" inquired Chairman Walter Castro. Mrs. McDougall replied that so far all the work was volunteer, including her own daily appearances at the budget sessions, but that with county money research could go on more intensively.

"If you're going to consider the others you should consider us," she wound up. "But I hope you'll say 'no' to everybody."

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said the board had under consideration a protional development fund authorized by the Legislature. Work of the taxpayers' group was welcome, he said, but he felt it would be illegal to make an appropriation and therefore he recommended against it.

The board adopted this attitude but Mrs. McDougall had the last word: "To mee it would be promotional, because business is leaving our county now due to high taxes."

As tentatively approved, subject to interview with representatives of the organizations concerned, the promotion budget totaled $25,846, almost identical with $25,820 for the current fiscal year.

Though the Junior Museum had asked for $3,500, this was left at the administrator-recommended $1,000, after Supervisor Vera Schultz commented that the museum was "always hanging from a precipice."

The Marin Industrial Development Foundation's requested $12,000 and Jensen recommended $9,000 compromised out at $10,421, just half its budget.

Novato's Chamber of Commerce was put down for $500 as last year though $1,000 had been asked, and because this item was inserted the board also put the Sausalito Regatta down for its former $500.

OPEN HOUSE AT NOVATO FIREHOUSE

Novato firemen will observe Fire Service Day Saturday with a display of equipment at the fire house from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. The firemen's ladies auxiliary will serve coffee and cookies to residents at both houses who come to view pumpers, trucks, resuscitators, gas masks and other equipment. Shining up a truck in preparation for visitors are, from left, Charles Ridgeway, Capt. Jack Kidder and Don Ross. Independent-Journal photo)
